LINER'S CHALLENGE TO AMERICA'S LIQUOR LAW

The Daily Mirror

No. 6,126.

Registered at the G.P.O. as a Newspaper.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1923

One Penny.

LIBERALS GAIN TIVERTO

Village children of Exminster decorate with ribbons the Hon. F. D. Acland, portrait inset on right, victor in the Tiverton by-election. Mr. Acland's win means the gain of a seat to the Liberals. He polled 12,041 votes, as against 11,638 secured by Colonel Acland Troyte, the Conservative candidate. The Labour candidate, Mr. F. Brown, only managed to obtain 495.

QUEEN IN HARROW PAGEANT

Lady Irene Curzon as Queen Elizabeth, whom she is to impersonate at the Harrow pageant. She will be the principal figure in the episode representing the granting of the charter for the foundation of the school. The pageant bids fair to be one of the most interesting and picturesque on record.

THE PRINCE'S 29th BIRTHDAY

Universal congratulations were forthcoming for the Prince of Wales, who has just entered his thirtieth year. He is the first direct heir to the throne to reach that age unmarried for a considerable time. His father was married at twenty-eight and his grandfather at twenty-one.

THE HORSE SHOW

Princess Yolanda of Italy with her husband, Count di Bergolo, who is competing in the Horse Show, in Hyde Park yesterday.

A small Shetlander entered for the Show with two admirers.

The International Horse Show, which opens at Olympia to-day, promises, if possible, to eclipse its former successes. The entries for all events are up to the highest standard, and exceptionally interesting spectacular displays have been arranged. The floral decorations will, as usual, be superb.

FAMOUS CONTESTS.

Equine Entente at Great Olympia Show.

'CHASE NOVELTY.

Purp'e and Gold Pavilions in Fairyland of Flowers.

For weeks past West Kensington and Hammersnita have been adapting them-selves to a "horsy" atmosphere created by the preparations for the twelfth Interna-tional Horse Show, which opens at Olympia to-day and lasts a week.

More than 2,000 horses have arrived from all parts of Europe to compete in the world-famous contests. Noted horsemen will take part.

An indoor steeplechase is one of the novelties this year, and will be over a quarter of a mile course.

Olympia has been turned into a fairy garden, and 1,000 electric lamps will glow through great masses of blooms on to gaily-decorated stands and pavilions.

VIVID JUNGLE SCENES.

Purple and Scarlet Pavilions and Dazzling Banks of Flowers.

Horses, with riders in British khaki, French

Horses, with riders in British khaki, French grey and Italian olive green, tot daily along the busy High-street to Hyde Park and are exercised in Rotten Row.

The complement of 2,000 horses is a large advance on last year's entries, and everything points to this year's being one of the most successful shows in the series.

An innovation is the Scurry Stakes, which will be decided on Friday evening.

This—the idea of Mr. R. G. Heaton, the managing director—is an indoor steeplechase, and will form a severe test for horse and rider.

None of the obstacles exceed 4t, 6in, in height, and speed will prove as important a factor as government of the prize.

The arena presents a dazzling sight, with its multi-coloured roof—jungle scenes in vivid colouring, with gold, purple and scarlet pavilions at each end and immense banks of flowers. Seldom has such a gorgeous array of blossoms been housed under Olympia's great glass roof.

30,000 FLOWERS PLANTED.

Thirty gardeners have for days been planting some 30,000 flowers—all specially grown for the show.

Salmon and red geraniums, marguerites, Hiawatha and Dorothy Perkins roses, climb in bewildering beauty up the sides of the arena, and are thrown into brilliant relief by the dark brown turf.

A new type of rose, as yet unnamed, forms a part of the decorations, and is a deep eximson in part of the decorations, and is a deep crimson in colour.

The head gardener has taken weeks to collect this stupendous floral array, and yesterday he declared the result a "real fairy garden."

A thousand electric lamps are hidden beneath masses of blooms and will glow through them with gorgeous effect. At night the whole scene will be britiantly lit by sixty enormous lamps, each of 2,000 candle power.

The King is to see his trophy jumped for by inter-allied officers on Thesday afternoon, the Queen also being present.

The Prince of Wales will occupy the royal box on Thursday, when selected teams jump for the cup presented by him.

The public can sit anywhere in the building or 2s. 4d. every morning, and will see some splendid exhibitions, although there will be no jumping.

BACK TO THE ROADS.

Mr. Lovat Fraser's Analysis of Motor Problem in "Sunday Pictorial."

"Back to the Roads" is the title of an interesting article by Mr. Lovat Fraser which will appear in to-morrow's Sunday Pictorial.

In this article Mr. Fraser examines the question of remedies for the increasing number of motor accidents, which are likely to discourage the use of roads.

In the matter of dangerous driving Mr. Fraser suggests that a healthier spirit should be fostered amongst the motorists themselves, and that the roads should also be improved in order to make road travel safer.

Another interesting article, "Is the World Breaking Up?" by Dr. William T. Gordon, appears in the same issue of the Sunday Pictorial. The well-known authority on geology gives the the suggestion that the Etna cruptions and discusses the suggestion that the Etna cruption is the betinning of a devastating period of volcanic activity.

£10,000 DIAMOND FOUND.

A diamond of a rich brandy shade, weighing 202 carats, and described as the largest of its kind ever found, has been recovered by the De Beers-Company from their Wesselton mine in Kimberley. The estimated value of the diamond is £10,000.

NEW YORK, Friday.

It is announced from Alaunta that Mr. Asa C. Candler, aged seventy-two, the wall-known multi-millionaire coca cola magnate, has married Mrs. May Ragin, his stenographer. They have gone to Washington for the honeymoon,—Central News.

2.000 HORSES IN AID FOR POOR WIDOW ASCOT'S GAYEST DAY.

Tragedy That Left Mother and Children Penniless.

"DAILY MIRROR" FUND.

The day after the announcement of The Daily Mirror Fund in aid of Mrs. Berryman and he our young children, who were left destitute by the recent tragic affair in the Mells Colliery, the treasurer, the Rev. E. R. Oxley, vicar of Cole the recent tragic affair in the Mells Colliery, the treasurer, the Rev. E. R. Oxley, vicar of Coleford, writes to say that he received subscriptions from readers amounting to over £31.

In all the long roll of mining disasters there have been few more pathetic than that which has suddenly plunged a once happy little family.

Bert. Berryman, the harband, it will be remembered, accidentally killed his lifelong friend, William Button. Overcome with grief at the awful accident, he wrote a note explaining the occurrence, and then killed himself with a detonator.

The result is that Mrs. Berryman, unlike Button's widow, has no benefit under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Button's widow, has no benefit under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

With 18 New 18 Ne

MORE ALIENS LANDING.

1922 Statistics Show Big Increase-British Born Wives from Germany.

A substantial increase in the number of aliens who entered and left the United Kingdom during 1822, when compared with 1821, was recorded in statistics published yesterday. Last year the passengers landed totalled 336,58, while those embarked numbered 315,761. The principal nationalities of those landed last year were: Belgians, 25,348, 10uth, 27,531; French, 59,123; Italian, 13,147; and Americans, 100,566.

From Germany there came 1,136 British-born wives and widows, and 9,615 others.

GO-CART MYSTERY.

Young Wife Charged with Murder of a Boy-Husband Arrested.

A tall, pale young woman, Susan McAlister, or Newall, stood calmly in the dock at the Eastern Police Court, Glasgow, yesterday, and listened to a charge of having, in concert with her husband. John Newall, murdered John Johnstone, the twelve-year-old boy whose strangled body was found in a bundle on a go-cart on Thursday.

She was remitted to the Airdrie Sheriff's court.

court.
John Newall was arrested yesterday afternoon at Haddington, which is 100 miles from Coatbridge. Newall is believed to belong to Haddivision.

JUDGE'S FAULTY WILL.

Mr. Justice Bray Leaves Unsatisfactory Directions-£107,000 Estate.

The late Mr. Justice Bray, who died at the age of eighty, failed, like many other farnous Judges and lawyers, to make his own will properly. Certain interlineations that were unstatested could not be admitted to probate. He left unsettled property valued at £107,338 with net personally £43,731. The heppress include: £100 to his clerk, John Moorman, £50 to Marie Louise Dulland, £25 to Sarah Bashford, and £1 for each year of service to Sarah Bashford, ford and £1 for each year of series of the ford ford. In the matter of his faulty will, Mr. Justice Bray was in distinguished company, notably that of his schoolfellow, Lord St. Helier (for many years sitting in judgment on other people's wills), Lord Halsbury, Lord Grim thorpe, Judge Rentoul, Judge Bacon and Lord Brougham, as well as many other prominent solicitors, barristers and Judges.

MILLIONAIRE WEDS AT 72.

Typist Becomes Bride of American Magnate-Her Second Husband.

Quaint Crinoline Frock and Striking Arabian Fashion. PARROT ON A PARASOL.

The last day of Ascot was the gayest and brightest of all. The sun poured down on a wonderful pageant of beauty and fashion, and the scene amply made up for the disappoint ment of the first two days.

All eyes were on the Queen, who looked beau

All eyes were on the Queen, who looked beau-tiful in a grey toilette complete with chiffon velvet cloak and grey beribboned parasol. Princess Mary was in paie mauve, and her hat was like a large sweet pea, with a tulle brim. The Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, wore white carnations like the King.

briling friend on vitage and me stockers, prince George, were white carnations like the King.

A mild sensation was caused by a crinoline frock which almost defied the white cloud of copreys worn by Lady Alexander. Mrs. Hilton Philipson, M.P., in pale pink and cream lace, was receiving congratulations every few minutes. A proid parror teared its green and blue head up from the parasol carried by Lady Margaret Lindsay.

Lady Alice Scott and Lady Rachel Howard both chose pale coffee tinte, while others dared bright royal blue and cherry muslims.

One visitor to the paddock in a striped shawl garment might have come from an Arab tent. So the last day of Ascot lived up to its reputation, and the crowd for the last day of the 1825 meeting will be remembered as a record one.

TOO HOT TO WORK.

American Schools and Factories Closed Until Heat Wave Is Over.

The Eastern States of America continue to swelter under the great heat wave, says Reuter. Schools, factories and other places are closed, and city employees in various places have been given a holiday until the torridity spends itself. The lawns and parks of New York are crowded with sleepers at night—men, women and children seeking relief from the heat. The Weather Bureau holds out a promise of somewhat cooler temperature. The number of heat deaths in New York alone has increased to fourteen, says the Central News.

News. To-day's Weather.—Moderate to fresh north-west 'to west winds, mainly cloudy, but some fair periods, occasional rain or drizzle in places, rather warm.

INCORRIGIBLE PIT BOY.

Stole Money to Do Round of Picture Palaces and Theatres.

Coalville magistrates heard an extraordinary story vesterday, when charles Rolls, an eighteen-year-old pit lad, was sent to Borstal for a year for stealing £23 19s, from brothers named William and George Buck, both colliers, with whom he lodged at Measham.

Rolls, whose parents reside in the East End of London, was sent to an industrial school for their in 1916, and absconded three times. Completing his term at the industrial school, he worked at Measham Colliery. He admits taking money from boxes in a bedroom; and said he then went to London and visited picture palaces and theatres. When arrested he threw away two £5 notes

PENSIONER'S OBSESSION

Man's Suicide Because He Did Not Fill in a Form Correctly.

A pensioner who hanged himself because last year in filling up his pension paper he omitted to strike out the word "married," and, as a result, received an additional allowance, was the subject of an inquest at Poplar yesterday. He was Nathan James Roadknight, sixty-nine, a former lightship officer.

This year he filled up the pension form correctly, and the mistake was discovered. It was arranged to deduct the amount from this year's pension, and, although there was no suspicion of fraudulent intent, deceased became obsessed with the idea that he had offended Trinity House and its officials, whom he held in great reverence.

A verdict of Suicide while of unsound mind was returned.

1,150 GUINEAS PICTURE.

Latour Canvas Which Was Worth Only £30 Twenty Years Ago.

An extraordinary price was realised at Christie's yesterday for a small picture by Fautin-Latour.

Mr. W. Sampson paid 1,150 guineas for a small canvas, sixteen inches by fourteen inches, showing white and red roses in a glass. Twenty years ago these pictures could be secured for twenty or thirty pounds.

Two pictures famous all over the world also came up for sale. They were Herkomer's "The Last Muster" and Holman Hunt's "The Scapegoat."

Son". The Last Muster" depicts a Sunday service at the Royal Hospital, Chelsea, and was shown at the Royal Academy in 1875. "The Scapegoat" was at the Royal Academy in 1856.

P.M.G. CENSURED BY LAW LORDS.

Dispute Over £40 Lasts for Five Years.

"TYRANNICAL ACT."

"Wanted Others to Pay If He Did Wrong."

Severe censure of the Postmaster-General was passed by Lord Birkenhead yesterday in giving judgment in the House of Lords dispute in 1918 between the Post Office and Liverpool Corporation.

A leakage from an electric main in Liverpool caused an explosion which damaged a Post Office telephone cable and pipe, to which repairs cost £40 &8.9d.

There was an agreement between the corporation and the National Telephone Company that in the event of such injury there should be no liability.

This was held by a County Court judge to be binding on the Postmaster-General. He, however, took the claim to the Lords, who yesterday dismissed it with costs.

JUDGES SPEAK OUT.

Postmaster - General's "Inaccurate View of the Law,"

The explosion occurred on August 6, 1918, and Judge Thomas in the Liverpool County Court decided that the agreement with the Telephone Company was binding on the Postmaster-

A Divisional Court of the King's Bench Division reversed the County Court Judge's decision

sion reversed the County Court Judge's decision and ordered judgment to be entered for the Postmaster - General for £40 8s. 9d. and costs, but the Count of Appeal restored the finding of the County Court Judge.

The Postmaster-General for the County Court Judge.

The Postmaster-General from the Appeal restored the finding of the County Court Judge.

The Postmaster-General from the County Court Judge.

Lord Birkenhead, Alkin.

Son, Shaw, Wrenbury and Carson delivered judgment yesterday.

Lord Birkenhead said he should have been almost content to leave the matter where it was left by the County Court Judge, whose opinions reflected great credit upon him and the acumen of the Bench of which he was a member.

member.

Having reviewed the circumstances and de-tails at some length, Lord Birkenhead referred to one letter of the Postmaster-General as giving an entirely inaccurate view of the law. Parlie, ment had provided means by which the Post-master-General could have obtained relief, and it was important to observe that he had not availed himself of the statutory provision.

"TYRANNICAL CONDUCT."

He knew of no consideration of law or equity by which the Postmaster-General could transfer an advantage to himself while taking it away from the other party, and he regretted that the Postmaster-General did not leave the matter after the admirable judgment of the learned fter the admirable laughtent of the county Court Judge. It was a perfectly hopeless County Court Judge. It was a perrecuy nopeless appeal.

Lord Shaw, in agreeing, made reference to tyrannical and dishonest conduct which would visit its consequences upon its victims, but which found no support by Act of Parliament. All the period of the

OTHER NEWS IN BRIEF.

Mr. Robert Smillie, M.P., will take his seat

Five cases of smallpox, one of a severe type, ere notified yesterday at Long Eaton (Derby-hire).

Farm Tragedy.—Nabor Crump, an agriculurist, was found dead with his throat cut at a arm in Llandenny yesterday.

Late Sir Henry Primrose.—A memorial service or the late Sir Henry Primrose was held yesorday at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

terray at St. Margaret's, Westminster.

Headmaster Dead.—Mr. H. G. White, headmaster of the Portsmouth Dockyard School from 1888 to 1905, has died at the age of eighty-one.

Praise of Sunday Games.—A Stepney Borough Council report declares that Sunday games in the parks have had an undoubtedly beneficial effect.

"More Than a Tonic."—To be struck in the ck by a motor-car was referred to at Clerken-bil County Court, yesterday as "something ore than a tonic."

Kitchener Scholar's Success.—Mr. C. H. O. Scaife, St. John's College, Oxford, who has been awarded the Newdigate Prize for English verse, is the holder of a Lor? Kitchener Memorial Fund scholarship.

CHALLENGE OF BRITISH LINERS TO U.S. "DRY" LAW M.P.S AND BAN ON Sealed Liquor Supplies of Baltic Seized for Test Case.

JOINING IN COURTS FIGHT FIVE VESSELS

Steamship Companies Must Prove Case Before Government Intervene in Dispute.

With the arrival of the Baltic at New York yesterday with sealed supplies of liquor for the homeward voyage, the American "dry" law for foreign vessels was enforced.

United States Treasury officials were waiting to seize the liquor, the various steamship companies having agreed that a test case shall be fought in the courts.

Four other liners—on their way or about to sail—are co-operating by also carrying sealed stocks of drink for the return trip. No diplomatic question as between Britain and America has yet arisen.

Only if the case for the shipping companies is upheld by international jurists would action by the British Foreign Office be considered.

SURPLUS DRINK FOR TRIP ETNA DISASTER WORST OF OUT THROWN INTO SEA.

Big Customs Haul of Stock Airmen Make Plucky Flight Reserved For Return.

PROBLEM FOR JURISTS.

Two British liners-the Berrengaria and the Baltic-docked at New York vesterday with sealed supplies of liquor om board for the homeward trip.

Their arrival marked the ffirst stage in the challenge of the steamship companies to the "all dry" decree of the American Treasury for foreign vessels within the three-miles territorial limit.

The reserve supply was under seal of the British Excise authorities and United States Customs officials immediately sent an inspector to see whether it was in excess of the mediately.

cinal allowance.

While the Customs officials were concentrating their attention on the arrival of the Berengaria the Baltic reached quarantine with 6,182 bottles of liquor.

BOTTLES THROWN OVERBOARD.

A few stray bottles of liquor that had not been consumed on the journey out were thrown overboard when the three miles limit was reached.

overboard when the tures make reached.

The result was that the stores were seized by order of the Treasury.

Shortly afterwards the Bevengaria reached the quarantine station, and after a brief stay there, during which the liquor under seal on board remained unmolested, she started for the pier, where the Customs officers were waiting for her. The Berengaria carried 110 gelloms of spirits, 100 bottles of wine and 5,688 bottles of ale and control.

100 boutles of wme and 5,888 bottles of ale and porter.

Passengers said that the trip was "pleasantly wet" up to the previous night, but when they got up yesterday morning they found everything sealed tight.

Apart from the statement that the seals would be removed and the liquors placed under bond fittle additional information was forth.

It was stated that there would be no interference with the operations of the liner, although under the Volstead Law their seizure was permissible.

TEST CASE.

TEST CASE.

It was made clear, enables the Central News from Washington, that a representative of the British steamship lines attended inportant conferences and was a party to the agreement that the liquor should be seized in order that a test case may be brought in the courts. Four other liners will figure in the test case, Now on their way, or about to sail for New York, they are Olympie and Cedric (White Star), Caronia (Cunard) and Lapland (Red Star), and all carry scaled supplies of liquor.

The British Government, says Reuter, in no way challenges the authority of the United Rates officials to break the seals and confiscate the liquor.

Rates officials to break the scals and conflecte the liquor.
Jurisdiction of the British Government in cases of liquor or any other goods scaled at a British port ceases once the three-mile limit has been passed.
There is not likely to be intervention by the British Foreign Office unless a case is made out by the advisers of the shipping companies which has been confirmed after consideration by international jurists.

FISHERMEN'S RECORD CATCH.

When two Barmouth fishermen—John H. Rees and Edward Jones—who were netting off the beach with a rowing boat vesterday, drey in their net they found it filled with bass numbering eighty-seven fish, accepting from 2th, to 3b. cach. They have never before had such a catch.

THE CENTURY.

Over Burning Craters.

DRIVEN BACK BY GASES.

Two Italian seaplanes have flown over Etna photographing the scene of the eruption, says an Exchange message from Rome.

The airmen reported that their scouting was of brief duration, as the burning gases was of brief duration, as the burning gases, emitted were so acrid that breathing was most difficult and they were compelled to turn back. Another message says the manager of the observatory of Etna has declared that the eruption is the most formidable one of the century. He says that the quantity of lava is three times that of the last cruption, and thinks that the declaration, and thinks that the three volcanoes must be bound things that the trogether.

A steady decrease in the force of Etna's eruption is now apparent, and the flow of lava is much slower, says Reuter.

much slower, says ketuer.

Great Relief.

The oppressiveness of the atmosphere has lightened considerably, and, though the air is still black and heavy, it is much less burning and irritating.

The lessening of the eruption has come as an great relief to all in the vicinity of the volcano, and the work of salvage and rescue can now be organised under less difficult conditions.

Hope has been revived in the hearts of the former inhabitants of the evacuated towns and villages, and the stricken people are already asking permission to return to their homesteads. The salvage and energy they are making plans for courage that even it spared destruction, Linguaglossa is doomed to an economic death, as the law-strew forest, vineyards and fruit groves, from which the inhabitants derive their living, have become permanently sterile.

BELGIAN SENTRIES SHOT. Surprise Attack by Two Germans-

Assailants Swim River.

Two Belgian sentinels were killed and one wounded yesterday at the village of Marl, near Buer.

Buer.

It appears, states the Central News, that two Germans were asked to show their passports, whereupon they attacked the Belgians, who were taken by suprise. The men fled to the River Lippe, where, throwing off their clothes, they jumped in and swam to a part of the bank which was not patrolled and escaped.

Another message states that three sentries were killed.

Premier to Most M. S.

Another message states that three sentries were killed.

Premier to Meet M. Poincaré?—The Petit Parisien, quoted by Reuter, referring to the several reports current of a meeting between Mr. Baldwin and M. Poincaré, says: it is considered on the British side that conversations would not be opportune before france and Belgium have replied to the British memorandum regarding the Rultr. M. Poincaré, however, is produced to the British memorandum regarding the Rultr. M. Poincaré, however, is produced to the British memorandum regarding the Rultr. M. Poincaré, however, is of German overtures to France rumoured in London, states Reu.er.

KILLED BY A STEAM ROLLER.

Thomas Feriwick, a road man, of Welton, near Hull, was knocked down and fatally injured by a steam roller in Hull vestorday He was walking in front of the roller, and stated before he died that he did not know it was so close on him Mile. Stancioff has re- The late Mr. Justice signed the First Serestaryship of the Bultaryship of the Bulgarian Legation at Washington.

MAJORS AND MYSTERY WOMAN IN FLAT SCENE.

Remarkable Court Story of an Assault.

OFFICER BOUND OVER.

Two majors and a mysterious "Mrs. X'2 figured in a remarkable case of assault which attracted a big crowd of people to Folkestone Police Court yesterday, and which the advocates on both sides and the Bench agreed it was highly desirable not to fight out.

Major Hugh Leybourne Popham was sum-

Major Hugh Leybourne Popham was summoned by Major Anstey for assault. Mr. Haines, for the prosecution, said the assault was brutal, cowardly and, mijustifable. Unfortunately a woman, whom he would call "Mrs. X," was concerned in the case. This woman, it was agreed, was highly neurotic and hysterical.

Major Popham was stated to have lived at her flat, and complainant, who was a friend of "Mrs. X," and her solicitor, had been called in to see to the safety of the flat and to see the woman's arms, which were bruised. Upon his arrival, complainant was struck down from behind, it was alleged, by Popham.

His eye was blackened. After several consultations defendant, to save the case being fought, out, was bound over in the sum of £100 and a surrety in a like amount, each side paying its own costs.

LIBERAL WINS TIVERTON.

Conservative Beaten by 403 Votes-Labour's Small Poll.

Liberal majority

At the General Election Mr. W. S. Sparkes, the Conservative candidate, heat Mr. Acland by seventy-four votes, Mr. Brown then polling

JUDGE ON RENT ACT.

Deluge of Court Applications by Poor People-Money Wasted.

"Of all Acts of Parliament on the Statute Book the Rents Act constitutes a record. It seems to invite litigation in every possible seems to invite ingation in every possible form." So said Judge Ampliett in Birmingham County Cout yesterday. "Unfortunately," he said, "parties who indulged in these actions were most poor people of the said in a second in grant of the Rents Act large numbers bought houses already inhabited by far too many people and found possession impossible to obtain. The result was their money was wasted, Applications were often made in desperation, and the heart-burnings to which they gave rise could easily be imagined.

MR. LLOYD GEORGE WILLING

Self-Respect on Both Sides as His Condition of Liberal Reunion.

"On condition of Liberal Reunion.

"On condition that self-respect on both sides is retained, I am willing to work as I worked in the past for progressive principles and progressive causes," said Mr. Lloyd George, speaking on Liberal reunion at the Oxford University New Reform Club yesterday.

The white sheet of repentence was a very poor substitute for a mainsain, he added. "What they wanted was to get the ship along. "If I were to say: 'I am here, gettlemen, to apologise for the part I took in the war, for having done my best for my native land,' you would not respect me for one moment. The old plurase was repent and be saved, but this is repent and be damed."

Three and a half million of people in this country which could, spend £50,000,000,000 on a war should be able to sweep away those sluins.

WOMEN BY CAMBRIDGE.

Question of State Grants Debated in Commons.

LORD H. CECIL'S DEMAND.

Wants Sexes Separated -No Mixed Education.

Whether the admission of women to Universities is in the interests of education was one of the points M.P.s thrashed out in the House of Commons yesterday, when Mr. Edward Wood moved the second reading of the Oxford and Cambridge Bill, which will give these Universities State assistance.

Mr. Asquith was all in favour of the admission of women, but Lord Hugh Cecil thought a "really mixed" University would be disastrous.

"Because the presence of women in Par-liament had been extremely stimulating to debate," Mrs. Wintringham held that Cam-debate, Mrs. Wintingnam held that Cambridge would benefit likewise.

Mr. Wood explained that after the war the Universities were compelled carefully to review the financial and other conditions under which they were operating. This Bill was a consequence of the report of the Royal Commission presided over by Mr. Asquith, which carefully examined the question in all its details.

SHOULD ADMIT WOMEN.

examined the question in all its details,

SHOULD ADMIT WOMEN.

Among other things, the Royal Commission recommented an additional grant of £70,000 to each University. He doubted whether the Treasury would agree to find the whole of that sum, but it was intended to extend such a measure of financial assistance to the Universities as would enable them to meet their most pressing and immediate needs.

"The controversy which has arisen as to the admission of vomen to Cambridge can be better dealt with in Committee," added 'Mr. Wood. "Personally, I think that the admission of women to full membership of the Universities is both inevitable and right, but I also believe in the autonomy of the Universities, and it night be theter to leave Cambridge to work out its own reform."

Mr. Asquitth said he could not help expressing a certain amount of surprise at the state of things which prevalled here and whose full feel in the state of the prevaled here and where full technical apparatus of education, both on the scientific and every other side, was developed to a point nearly approaching perfection—all done entirely by the benefactions of rich men.

CAMBRIDGE LACGING.

He hoped that when the State had made its contribution to fill up the yawning gaps in education, that a sense of public duty and a sense of perspective would bring forward a new set of benefactors.

sense of perspective would brulg rowant a re-set of benefactors.

On the question of the admission of women to Cambridge, he declared it would be wrong to reject this Bill because Cambridge was lagging behind. If the recommendations of the Commis-sion were carried out the Universities would become, in the broad sense of this word, more national in character and more widely open to all classes of the community than at present. Lord Hugh Cecil thought a "really mixed" University would be disastrous to the education both of the men and the women, and the segre-gation of the sexes was in the interests of good coluention.

gation of the state of coloration. Mr. William Graham said that the Labour Party would support any attempt to remove the bar against women.

The Bill was read for the second time without.

BOILERMAKERS TO BALLOT.

Conference with Shipbuilding Employers Breaks Up.

The conference between the shipbuilding em-yers and the Boilerm kers' Society broke up terday afternoon, no settlement having been cardiod.

The boilermakers intimated that in any case they would have to refer the issue to a ballot vote of the members.

Eight weeks ago, in consequence of their refusal to honour the agreement which was negotiated between the employers and the Federation of Engineering, and Shipbulding rades, 10,000 members of the Boilermakers' Society were looked out from all federated shipbulding each nocked out from an federated shipbuilding establishments.

London's Coal Threatened.—London coal porters are unenimous in their determination to resist the wage reduction proposed by their employers, and when they meet on Sunday, they will decide whether to strike on Monday. Should they strike, nearly 6,000 men will be out, and London's coal supplies will be held up.

Co-operators to Meet.—The Median Committee of the Trade Union Congress decided yesterday to read the vace of the strike among co-operative employees and endorsed the action of Mr. C. W. Bowerniom, M.P., in calling together at Manchester for nex' Monday the Joint Committee of co-operators and trade unionism to discuss the situation.

Obtainable from all Boot and Shoe Dealers, Athletic Outfitters, Stores,

Ironmongers, Gra-

cers, etc

BOIM

COLOURED SHOES—GLOVE AND POCHETTE FASHIONS

German).

A DARING COIFFURE. A DARING COIFFURE.
Mile. Frederique
Soulé, from the Opera, danced for us. She affects the "on the way to the bathroom" type of coiffure, and is the only woman Is know who can show her ears and skill look attractive. It was still attractive. It was all great fun, but I hope my learned and courteous bosts won't be offended if I say I still maintain that the best style of ball-room dancing is to be seen in England.

White kid is being used enormously in the dressmaking and millinery world. A delightful little close-

LOVE the little kid shoes quite untrimmed | fitting cap made entirely of it, had a band of wonderful mud.

WONDERFUL MUD.

Paris has gone mad over the wonderful Boncilla mud which does the most amazing things to your skin, wages war on wrinkles and almost any kind of facial blemish and is going to do more to make plain women beautiful than anything yet discovered. When you did than anything yet discovered when you ful than anything yet discovered when you can to the same of the sam PHILLIDA.

"TAKING THE WATERS"

What Perfection!

A moment ago they were in a frightful state, now see how snowy white they are, without a blemish, non-streaky, non-chalky, but smooth as enamel. The finish that is possible only with "BLANCO" White Cleaner, is now put up in liquid form, and ready for use, at 9d per bottle. Also in the familiar metal box, with cake and sponge, at 6d. and 9d, and separate cakes at 2d. It dries a pure white and will not rub off. Makera : L Pickering & Sons, Ltd., Sheffield.

LIQUID

WHITE CLEANER

Llandrindod Llanwrtvd Llangammarch Builth Trefriw Knighton

"BLANCO" ts our Regd. Trade Mark It is illegal to sell a substitute as "BLANCO," and proceedings will be taken against in-fringers.

EAR by year it is becoming better known that it YEAR by year it is becoming containing is unnecessary to make a long and tiring journey abroad to "take the waters" at some Continental Spa. In Central Wales are famous Spas, which equal, if they do not excel, those of the famous Continental resorts in the curative properties of the waters.

For the golfer there are some of the best laid natural courses in the United Kingdom, and for the fisherman a selection of well-stocked rivers that afford days of long delight. Take your holiday and "cure" at the same time at a Central Wales Spa.

Illustrated Guide at any LMS Station or Town Office, or on applica-tion to the General Superintendent, LMS Railway, at Euston Station, London, N.W.1; Derby; Hunt's Bank, Manchester; or Buchanan

TRAVEL THE BEST WAY LMS

ROMANCE OF A QUEEN.

Intrigues That Tried to Prevent Marriage of Late King Edward.

An interesting account of pro-German and anti-British intrigues that were set afoot in an attempt to prevent the marriage of Princess Alexandra of Denmark and Edward Prince of Wales are new facts that Mr. W. R. H. Trowbridge has incorporated in the new edition of his book, "Queen Alexandra," just published by Messrs. T. Fisher Unwin (19s.).

The pook in Ghristian IX, coming as a young prince to congratulate Queen Victoria on her accession to the throne, probably not without the hope that he might become the husband of the youthful Sovereign.

The book, which was reviewed at length in The Daily Mirror on publication of the first edition, is a remarkably sympathetic study of the beloved royal lady, and in its compilation Mr. Trowbridge has had access to documents that lend what he has to say both knowledge and insight.

The first edition enjoyed a large sale in America and in this country. An interesting account of pro-German and

The first edition enjoyed a large sale in America and in this country.

KITTEN KILLER FINED.

Hurled from Doorsten Across Road and Fatally Hurt by Railings.

For cruelty to an eight-weeks-old kitten by throwing it from the doorstep of his house to the opposite side of the road, where it struck some railings and was so badly injured that it had to be destroyed, William Jackson, of Gordon-road, Hornsey, was at Highgate yesterday fined 30s, and ordered to pay two guineas costs. His defence was that the noise the kitten was making disturbed his wife, who was ill and in an agitated condition.

He merely intended to push the kitten away from the door.

HISTORICAL MOTOR-CAR.

Irish Ministers to Travel in Former British Fort on Wheels.

Members of the Irish Government when in London will have at their disposal a motor-car which did distinguished service during the most troublous times in Ireland.

This is the ninety horse-power car, lined with armour plate, in which the Chief Secretary, Sir Hamar Greenwood, travelled about Ireland.

The motor-car was specially designed to dash through ambushes and resist bullets.

It was brought to London after Sir Hamar's term of office ended, and is now undergoing reconstruction.

construction.

8 HURT IN MOTOR SMASH.

Ex-Mayor and Wife in Collision at Cross Roads.

Eight persons were injured by a collision between two motor-cars at Chislehurst Hill cross roads.

A Ford car, occupied by the owner, Mr. Pearce, ex-Mayor of Bromley, and his wife, the driver and two other persons, was turning out of the railway station cross-son was turning out of the railway station cross-son had to the countered another car, occupied had the manual ma

BULL HOLDS UP TRAINS.

Frightened Animal in Tunnel Delays Hundreds of Passengers.

Passengers travelling by trains on the main L. and N.W.R. line from Manchester to Leeds had a remarkable experience. Some cattle were being driven across the line near the mouth of a tunnel some five miles from Leeds, when a bull took frigit and rushed into the tunnel, where, despite all efforts to dislodge it made by gangs of men, it remained for some two hours, holding up train after train on the way to Leeds until quite a queue was formed Finally an engine, with all lights on, and making all the noise possible, inch by inch edged the frightened animal out of its refuge. Numbers of passengers missed their connections at Leeds, and had to proceed by car or remain in the city all night!

TRAFFIC OF FUTURE.

London Roads That May Be Taken Over by the State.

A new road between Dartford and Erith was opened yesterday by Mrs. Wilfrid Ashley, wife of the Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Transport,

Ribbons across the road having been cut, Mrs.
Ashley declared the road open to the public, and was presented with a bouquet of pink carnations.

In returning thanks on behalf of his wife, Colonel Ashley said he thought the time was coming when the Government would have to take over the roads of London to co-ordinate traffic even it that necessitated legislation.

The new road, which is practically level, provides a connecting link between Erith and Dartford, and is a mile shorter than the old road.

SMALL ADVERTISEMENTS

SMALL ADVERTISEMENT 32-20. SWALL ADVERTISEMENT 32-29, Bouverie-st, E.C. 4, between the hours of 10 and 6 (Saturdays, 10 to 1) General and Classified Advertisements, 2a 6d per line unfoinmum 2 lines, serage 7 words to the line. Financial partice-ships and Public Notices, 10s. per line, uninimum 2 lines. SWASHUM AND COUNTRY ADAPTMENTS.

SEASIDE AND COUNTRY APARTMENTS.
2s. 6d. per line, minimum 2 lines
Advertisements if sent by post must be accompanied by POSTAL ORDERS CROSSED COUTTS and CO STAMPS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.
CHAS STILES AND CO.—Planca by high-grade makers new and second-ham. for sale hire or hire-purchase, nepection invited - 74-76, Southampton-row, W.O.1
Plonos Museum 4:9
Plano dargains, new and second-hand; best makes from 21s. monthly—Parker's, 167 Bishopogate.

MOTORS AND CYCLES

MOTORS AND CYCLES

Freel Monster 194-page Catalogue of Unbeatable Bargains; cycles at guaranteed 50s; clear mong-savus; big reductions in accessories; real cable ciclerance offers-below cost; both books are free; don't miss them.—Write Mocrhouse, Ltd., Dept. 36, Padinan.
Burnley.

BUSINESSES FOR SALE AND WANTED

HOLIDAY APARTMENTS AND HOTELS.

ISLE OF MAN for Holidays.—Bracing air; beautint tempers, all sports and amusements; Illus, Guide and eatilings free; also apartment list.—M. W. Clague, 27, Impertabultings, Ludgate-frons. E.O. 4.

DEVELOPING Printing Snaps, is 6d; no charge failures; Te-posted 48 hours—Photogranhers, 447, Strand, London £2,000 WORTH Cheap Photo Material; catalogue sample tree.—Hackett's, July-rd, Liverpool.

AVIARIES, POULTRY, AND PETS.

ARRIVIS and Cages from 40a; 3 months' trial; Hat tree,—Chaipmans 1, 17, Totenham Court-road, London,

PUSH.—Our lamous Hake, parcels 3a, 6d, upwards, cars, tree,—Chaip Rail Service, Mildred Haren, DRESS.

A BABY'S magnificent, superior, complete Layette, 32s, 6d; dainty American robes, gowns, nighties, silk and wool rests, filanuels, shawls, Terry napkins, towels, etc., etc., send 2s, 6d for parco' on appro.—Mrs. E Barker, 31s, 8d; Swiss robes, day and night gowns, rests, shawls, filanuels, napkins, etc.; send 2s, for parcel on appro.—Mrs. E. Barker, 31s Broughamer, Southeas.

A BABY'S superior complete Layette of 25 beautiful garaments, shawls, filanuels, napkins, etc.; Send 2s, for parcel on appro.—Mrs. E. Barker, 31s Broughamer, Southeas.

A makinee coat- Swiss christicning robes, umbrd, day and night gowns, barras binders, vests, Turkin hapkins, etc.; and 2s. for parce on appreval.—Nurse, 99, Kingston-rd, Portunouth. acond zd. för parce on apprerai.—Nurie, 98, Kingstonerd,
GREAT Bornand for the Popular Trellis Muslin; price,
Great Bornand for the Popular Trellis Muslin; price,
Hept, D.H.J.-P. Hodgeon and Sons, Gity of Leeds, the Harge Roll Collar; richly lined, latest & Gra. models, movern, 26 8z. eppro.—Ledymand, 43z. Glapham-rd, 80.%
J ADV offers 50z. model Macintonh, unworn, for 15e,; approal.—Z. 75. Gortone-rd, Covenity.

In proval.—E., 78. Gordor-d., Coventy.

PREE CHURCH TOURING GUILD.

107. Memorial Hall, Farringdon Street, E.C. 4.

25. BRUGES, YPRES, EEEBRUGGE, TOURING BRUGES, STORE, S

BELGIAN Firm wants to buy new Auto-camion, 4 tons; Send price and particulars to T.F., rue Conscience, 47, Authory,

A DVICE free—Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Herbalista, 518, Manohester-d, Bradford, Mentlon "Mirror.")

COTTRE, Enlarged Glands Tonsils and Tumours quickly monial Proofs and Advice Free—W. Duncan, M. H. Special ist Open. "G.", Medical Hall, 48 Broadway, Grays.

MPORTAN'S to Ladies—Toupeev talls, transformations, prices; illustrated catalogue post free—Dept. C. Midhard Half Mrs. Oo. 24-26 Radford-d, Nottingham. CUPERIFLOUS Hair instantly removed: simple bosses (CUPERIFLOUS Hair instantly removed: simple bosses (CUPERIFLOUS Hair instantly removed: simple bosses). MISCELLANEOUS.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1923.

THE PUSSYFOOT FARCE.

TT is fortunate that our people, on this side of the Atlantic, are unable to take the Pussyfoot crisis very seriously.

A sense of humour, still vigorous amongst us, has kept the "dry" ship drama from becoming an international complication. It is still a joke, which grows more and more ludicrous as Pussyfoot, over there, gets more and more excited about the wine and the beer that may contaminate the atmosphere of New York, even if it's kept under seal, in the Berengaria or the Olympic, within three miles of the coast.

Now, apparently, we are to have a formal challenge upon those seals. There is to be an elaborate "test case," between the shipping companies and the American Government. But what exactly will be tested? We should perhaps answer: "The American Government's sense of humour and of proportion."

For it seems incredible that the influence of a fanatical clique should have brought a great country to this nonsensical interpreta-tion of the "freedom of the seas"; that while liquor abounds, for rich Americans, in America, the crews and passengers of British ships are not to provide a supply for themselves; that there is not enough common sense going amongst the "drys" to see that the whole ridiculous squabble could be set right by a stroke of the pen and a concession in favour of foreign vessels. It is not too much to say that the whole world is laughing at America-politely, of course,

But there are many who think it would be better to speak to her more frankly about the antics of her cranks—as indeed the French have already done, with a com-mendable directness which has made a greater impression over there than our humble acquiescence.

THOSE FRUIT PRICES.

WE have marched far from the simple life in these days!-from the simplicity which is usually associated with agricultural bliss when man (and woman) lived off the produce of the soil-"from hand to mouth," as we say.

The Report of the Committee on fruit and vegetables will embitter the average housewife, as she goes about the retail shops on her morning rounds and reflects upon the prices she pays and those that reward the farmer.

Here is plain evidence to show that be tween the hand-or the grower-and the mouth-or the consumer-there intervene other hands and mouths, busily intercepting the produce.

The Committee deals gently with these middlemen. It appears to allot most of the blame for the high prices of fruit and vegetables to the railways and to freight charges.

Its own figures refute its conclusionsfor they indicate profits of 100 per cent. there are cases—that of the humble parsnip, for instance—when the profit was well over 300 per cent. Yet we all know that the grower is in a sad plight and that the farming industry is crying out for help.

And indeed the Report does suggest that retailers might direct their attention to lesser profits and a larger turnover. This is good advice, and if it were followed we might be rid of the spectacle of "glutted markets," where good food is deliberately thrown away because it cannot be disposed of at the usual profitcering rates.

A THOUGHT FOR TO-DAY.

Employ thy time well if thou meanest to gain leisure, and, since thou art not sure of a minute, throw not away an hour.—Franklin,

THROUGH "THE MIRROR."

Is Our Climate Changing ?—Summer Co'ds—Do Not Stop Sunday Games !- Modern Dancing-The Healthy Age.

SUNDAY GAMES.

SUNDAY GAMES.

Do the Puritans not recognise the truth of the old sayings about mischief coming castly to idle hands?

It is—or used to be—on Sunday that the majority of working youths in my parish show (or showed) a tendency to get into trouble.

I believe Sunday games on the whole tend to keep them well-occupied and so well-behaved.

A London Vicar.

MODERN DANCING.

THE general dancing public prefer non-sequence dances, as they are easier to acquire and allow more scope for individuality.

I danced the lancers and other sequence and the "pivot" waltz, in my youth, and the property waltz, in my youth, on" for a time as a variation from the dances.

DO WE DESERVE IT?

Do we deserve hot weather?

Do we deserve hot weather?

I have noticed that whenever we get it we complain of i!! At least most of us do.

Men working in big cities are unfitted to bear much heat. Their clothes tormient them.

Women are more sensible ETHEL E. NORRIS.

SELFISH COLD-CATCHERS.

ONE of the unpleasant results of our distortion of summer colds. We Britons are probably the most confirmed cold-catchers in the world, Go to a theatre just now and you will find it difficult to catch a word of the play on account of coughs. The most important passages are drowned with unerring skill by the coughers.

oughers.
Why are they so selfish? Why must they go

A HINT FOR THE TRAFFIC AUTHORITIES.

Government are being pressed to "do something" about the traffic chaos in big cities. Will they do anything to remove the type of vehicle which at present "holds up" the road for miles? our big cities.

which satisfied our parents, which was proof that the dancing public wanted a change, and it came with the introduction of the fox-trot.

I would also mention that not only am I a member of a leading London dance club, but I frequent public ballrooms when travelling in the provinces on business, and I have never seen anything to take exception to in the way in which the dancers behaved when dancing or sitting out.

S. C. WOOTTON.

THE BATHING HERESY.

As "Historicus" says, the bathing Moorish civilisation in Spain was driven out by the non-bathing devout, and it' seems strange how this aversion to bathing has become ingrained in the Spaniard's constitution. In spite of the progress Spain has made since the glorious days of the "Reconquista," many Spaniards still seem to believe that "bathing is bad for the health."

seem to believe that become health."

It may be that originally the Church was responsible for this unpopularity. It must be remembered that the Spaniards were in constant warrare with the Moors for seven centuries, and as bathing is one of the important religious duties of a Moslem, the Church would naturally strive to keep the Christians from falling into heretical customs.

F. P.

to the theatre in that state? They are unsocial creatures who distribute infection everywhere. I took a friend to the play the other night. He exploded at intervals with his cold-convulsions. The consequence is that I now have his cold, and do not propose to invite him out again.

THE HEALTHIEST AGE.

SURELY it is a delusion to suppose that we are necessarily healthier in youth than in middle age?

I know that I was a delicate child, and I remained delicate during the days of adole-scence. Now that I am past forty, I seldom have an illness.

A. P. L.

DRESS TIES.

FOR the henefit of those of your readers who cannot tie a dress tie may I suggest that they try the new kind of bow, which is rather attractive?

attractive?
It is merely a strip of black material, the length varying in accordance with the size of the neck of the wearer. It is put round the neck in the usual way, the two ends meeting, and tied into a double knot, the ends sticking out in front of the wings of the collar.

One Wind Dribesses In a Hurry.

HOW MANY GAMES DO YOU PLAY?

CONCENTRATION OR VARIETY AS THE TWO IDEALS.

By GORDON STREET.

How many games do you play? How many recreations have you?

I have been counting up my own feeble attempts, and—excluding such childish matters as halma, beggar my neighbour, and tiddleywinks—I find I have arrived at the age of forty and can lay claim to medicority in the following: Cricket, Association football, lawn tennis, shooting, billiards, rowing, bicycling, bridge (to my mind the only card game you may legitimately include), bowls and riding. Walking has always been a matter of necessing the state of the control of th walking has always been a matter of necessity with me—not a hobby, as with many.
Once or twice I have tried feebly to swim

Once or twice I have tried feebly to swim and to play chess—two things apparently beyond me. Driving a car, skating and fishing have been other occasional efforts. Dancing I detest, and for foot racing I never had much speed. Golf is seemingly my one remaining hope of glory in games; perhaps when I come to it—and it is evidently inevitable to come to golf—I shall discover where my hidden athletic talent lies.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP STANDARD.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP STANDARD.
It is poor record for one who was evidently born with a liking for games of all sorts. Football was the only thing at which I have ever made any sort of mark. In every other direction liking has always been greater than aptitude. Why should this so often be the case? Do we go in for too many games? Ought there to be more concentration? I suppose it all depends on the standard or ideal a man sets before himself.
Talking to a famous lawn tennis player once

Ideal a man sets before himself.

Talking to a famous lawn tennis player once
I asked him how he managed to keep up his form so well as he does, though work claims the greater portion of his day. He said: "I am alutagy practising in my spare time."

Which goes to show that a man so situated can only excel at one game.

But then there's the question: "Do we want to excel?"

want to excel?

But then there's the question: "Do we want to excel?"

We cannot all be up to championship standards, and if we are thinking of physical fitness and happy recreation a variety in games is an excellent thing—games for every mood and every weather. For, after all, the "concentrated" lawn tennis player has had a poor time this year—one grass courts.

However it is possible for versatility and excellence to go together.

In his very entertaining book. "Sporting Pie," Mr. F. B. Wilson, once captain of Cambridge at cricket, cites C. P. Wilson (no relation of his, I believe) as an example of a wonderful all-round athlete. "At Cambridge he got his cricket Blue, captained the Rugger side, got his Soccer Blue and won an inter-Varsity cycle race... Among other trifles, he was a fine classical scholar, a very strong swimmer, a fine skater over any distance, a useful lawn tennis player and a good singer."

"ONLY THREE."

But Fredite Wilson thinks that E. M. Baerlein "had, and has, the most astonishing will-power for all ball games of any amateur ever known, and is, and was, the mest versatile of them all, with the possible exceptions of C. B. Fry and R. E. Foster."

He seems to have forgotten Max Woosnam, who is probably the best active player of ball games alive. But the point I am driving at is not who most brilliantly plays the most games, but how many games and recreations does the average person have a more or less regular shot at?

My own unsatisfactory list is, I suppose, regular shot at?

My own unsatisfactory list is, I suppose, more representative than most men's, for several "average men" whom I have questioned think that few men regularly play more than three games of any sort. I wonder. And what about women?

They, I fancy, are far more given to devo-

I have found that with women lawn tennis, I nave found that with women tawn telmis, for example, can easily become an obsession—for a time. Then, like most obsessions, it will die. And golf will become in turn the sole and sufficing attraction for the sports girl.

IN MY GARDEN.

JUNE 22.—Keep removing weeds and runners from the strawberry plantation. But if a new beel is to be planted in the autumn some runners from the healthiest plants should be obtained without delay. Layer these in 3in, pots, using good sandy soil, and carefully attend to watering.

The new strawberry bed should be got ready at once. Dig it over deeply, mixing in plent of rich material. Planting should take plac about the end of Augus'. It this early date chosen fruit may be expected the first season. E. F. T.

CHILDREN CHEER THOSE WHO BEAT THEM

The great crowd of children-many of them competitors-cheering the winners.

INSPECTION OF THE REPTON SCHOOL O.T.C.

Colonel G. D. Goodman, C.M.G., D.S.O., inspecting the Repton School O.T.C., at Repton, Derby.

Behind him, on the left, is Captain Strickland, the commanding officer.

The corps presented a very smart appearance on parade.

A boy who won chaired by his friends.

Happy scenes at the great children's sports meeting at Turnell Park yesterday.

EASIER CARRYING FOR WOUNDED.—Members of the medical corps watching a demonstration of field work with a spring stretcher at the camp of the Cambridge University O.T.C., Christchurch.

William Jackson of Hornsey, fixed 30s, and costs for birowing a kitter awas a coad and against dilings. It had to be destroyed.

Brugnon, of France, in play. He is one of the most notable members of a strong team.

DAVIS CUP LAWN TENNIS.—There was a large gathering at the Fitzwilliam Club ground, Dublin, to watch the keen struggle between France and Ireland in the Davis Cup tournament. Left, E. D. McCrae and H. Cochet in play.

The hat taken apart for packing.

Showing the usefulness of the rigid brim.

SOMETHING NEW IN HATS.—A new soft-crowned hat, which has been invented to prevent the shape being spoiled by the use of the brim when the wearer salutes a lady. The brim, which is detachable, is stiff, so that it cannot be pulled awry.

charles Cherry, has made a great as as the politi-in the new Hay-arket comed-

THE SEASON'S EVENTS.

Devonshire House Fete-London Library Changes-Oxford Boat President.

Ascor ended yesterday in a minor heat wave, and there was a small attendance, but the Season does not lack other events with which to bridge the interval till Goodwood. which to bridge the interval till Goodwood. The Horse Show begins at Olympia to-day. The Duke of York holds a reception on Monday evening to mark the beginning of the International Air Congress. On Tuesday there is the Theatrical Garden Party, on Thursday Harrow pageant and on Saturday the great aerial meeting at Hendon. The Prince of Wales attends the Norfolk Agricultural Show at Norrich on Walesday. at Norwich on Wednesday.

The Prince's Eirthday.

The Prince of Wales is twenty-nine to-day. He finds himself, I understand, in remarkably He finds himself, I understand, in remarkably good form, and has so far gone through his arduous programme of engagements without undue fatigue. He hopes to have a restful time when he visits his properties in the Duchy of Cornwall next month. He will stay a few days with the Marquis of Bath. In August he goes to Balmoral.

Lord Curzon and Literature

Lord Curzon and Literature.

Lord Curzon is not obliged to give the whole of his time to foreign politics. He has just been elected to the place on the committee of the London Library left vacant by the death of Mr. Frederic Harrison, and will preside at the annual meeting of the Library on July 5. Lord Hugh Cecil has taken over the trusteeship of the Library lately resigned by Lord Rosebery.

Lord Verulam's Grandchild.

Lord and Lady Verulam have another grandchild in the son born to their youngest daughter, who, before her marriage to Mr. Maurice Headlam, of the Treasury, was known as Lady Vera Grimston. Lady Vera has five sisters and one brother, Lord Grimston, who married Lord Meath's daughter.

The Bishop of Nassau, who has arrived in England to take part in the forthcoming Angle-Catholic Congress, was for many years a familiar figure in London. He was at one time curate at All Saints', Margaret-street, from which church he was transferred direct to his present see. To-morrow the Bishop is preaching at Streatham in the morning and at Teddington in the evening.

Tantivy at Olympia.

Tantity at Olympia.

The joynote of the Olympia Horse Show, which opens to-day, is the real old English ring of the coach-horn which calls in and dismisses each class and each jumper. The artist on the long brass tube will again be Will Payne, who started tootling at the age of four and has a repertoire of some 200 tunes, including airs which no other man can extract from this difficult instrument.

Popular Baronet.

His many friends in the House of Commons and in Walsall (where he is known as "Honest Dick") will be glad to hear that Sir Richard Cooper, the old member for Wal-

TO-DAY'S GOSSIP

News and Views About Men, Women and Affairs in General

Mr. Bourchier's Bulletin.
Mr. Arthur Bourchier, who was fifty-nine yesterday, writes me characteristically from Vulpera-Tarasp, in the Engadine, where he is enjoying his holiday amid snow and ice, "this is the last bulletin of the kind I shall ever issue, because if I don't enter my second childhood I shall want the public to believe that I have." Next month he returns to England to begin his "Treasure Island" tour.

Siki as Lion Tamer.

There is talk in Paris, I learn from my correspondent, that Siki will retire from the ring this year, and in the autumn make his debut before the public as a lion tamer. Almost every day he goes to a menagerie to take lessons, and his lion cub is his faithful companion everywhere.

Nobleman's Private Theatre.

A member of the old French aristocracy, Comte de Clermont-Tonnerre, has a private theatre in his garden at Maisons Laffitte, near theatre in his garden at Maisons Lamitte, near Paris, and each year he produces for his friends during the Paris season a new play that has not previously been played. The other day before the leaders of French society "The Neglectful Husband," by Nozière, was næduced. produced.

Oxford Boat President

The new president of the Oxford University Boat Club is Mr. Pat Mallam. He is an Ox-ford citizen, the son of Dr. Ernest Mallam. The Mallams are a well-known Oxford family, a number of them being in the legal profes sion. Pat is an old Lancing College boy. He left school to join the O.T.C. as a field gunner. He will be seen in the Leander Eight and Four at Henley.

Pat Mallam, the President of the ford University Boat Club.

Mr. M. R. Bridge man, the Home Secretary's son, is cricke captain at Eton.

"Mah Jongg."

The Princess Royal has consented to open the fets at Devonshire House, which the Marchioness of Carisbrooke is organising for July 11 and 12, in aid of the employment schemes of the Winter Distress League. The attractions include an old English village, a variety entertainment arranged by Miss Faith Celli, demonstrations of the Chinese game, Mah Jongg, which threatens to oust bridge in society, and dancing to Whiteman's band.

The New Violinist.

Alfredo Campoli, the young Italian violinist who stirred even the stony hearts of the music critics when he gave his first recital a few weeks ago, is to play again at Wigmore Hall to-night. Alfredo is seventeen, lives at Streatham and has been taught by his father, who is too nervous to hear the boy play in multile.

New York has now, I am told, a service of taxicabs driven by women. They are intended for nervous ladies and old women of either sex who are afraid of the male taxi-drivers.

Cricket Field "Wires.

Cricket Field "Wires."
It would be interesting to know why county cricketers receive so many telegrams when on the field. At a recent match between two famous counties no fewer than forty little buff envelopes were delivered to those taking part. There is something fatractively speculative to spectators in the sight of a telegraph messenger hurrying to "mid off" with an urgent missive, which is usually glanced at and crumpled into a trousers pocket.

National Party, which in glorious existence in 1918.

Lady Cooper.

It will be remembered that when Sir Richard retired in 1922 the seat was fo u.g.h t by Lady Cooper, who polled very feavily against her Liberal opponent but just "escaped" getting returned. She is fall and stately, and has two stalwart sons.

Buff envelopes were delivered to those taking parts. There is something attractively speed at elegraph parts. Lord Portarlington, Lord and Land Breck, and Lord Lons-table's brother, the Hon. Lancelot Low-ther, were among the dan erers. I also noticed Miss Fay Compton in a simple but very effective blue dress. During dinner I met Mr. Thomas Dawe, who teld me that the New Tivoli in the Strand, which is a fine the North of Norway? I have seen hundreds of them there, but they are, if anything, slightly larger than the common sparrow.

THE RAMBLER.

Distinguished Amateur Artist

Distinguished Amateur Artist.

Miss Ida Verner, the artists, who has a private gallery in Hové, has painted a portrait of Canon Daniell, M.A., for the Bishop Tucker Memorial Training College in Uganda, of which he is principal. Miss Verner, who comes of a well-known naval and military family, paints as a hobby, but, to judge from her portrait of Canon Daniell, she might well have taken it un as a carper. have taken it up as a career.

Do Sunday games interfere with Sunday churchgoing? A clergyman told me yesterday that congregations throughout the country were larger now than he had ever known them to be in the course of his experience.

Stephen Leacock, who can enjoy a story against himself, has related how on one occasion he was introduced by a clergyman to an English audience as follows: "Not so long English audience as follows: "Not so long ago we used to send out to Canada various classes of our community. We sent out our labourers, our scholars and professors. In-deed, we even sent out our criminals. And now," with a wave of the hand towards Leacock, "they are coming back.

Saving Time.

In Government Departments, the latest "cut" is in clocks. The number of electrically controlled clocks in Whitehall offices is being ruthlessly cut down. For the rent of each one is 18s. a year, and 18s. is—18s, now. Such economy, however, is somewhat risky. Officials run a danger of staying after their official hours!

"Anna Christie."

Although provisional "notices" are up at the Strand Theatre, Mr. Cochran tells me that business is good enough to enable him to keep "Anna Christie" running, and he intends to do so. I am glad to hear the news, as the production is one which nobody interested in the theatre can afford to miss. Mr. Cochran's new song and dance show, "Little Nelly Kelly," at the New Oxford will be ready at the end of next week.

Alligator Ivery

A jeweller tells me that many small ivory ornaments are now made from the teeth of alligators. This ivory is said to be of superior quality and of greater charm than the ivory obtained from elephants' tusks.

At Holyrood.

There is singularly little of state life at Holyrood Castle, Edinburgh, and the King and Queen intend their forthcoming visit to be a real holiday. In recent years Holyrood has been so renovated as to make it suitable as a royal residence at any time of the year, and great care has been devoted to the private rooms, which are decorated in an attractive modern style. tive modern style.

Summer Near?

Where is summer? Yesterday showed a half-hearted promise that it might be near. But what everyone wants is sunshine from a serene sky. And then we shall know that summer has come to stay.

"Tony."

"Tony."

Mr. Jack Buchanan, whom I met yesterday at the Grafton Galleries, told me that his next part will be in a new musical play under Mr. James White's management. It is to start in the provinces in August, and was originally named "The Prince of Pappenheim," but will now be called "Tony." Mile. Valia, with whom he was dancing at the Grafton, appears with him in his first film, "Squire, the Audacious."

CANCER.

GREAT SUCCESS OF POTASSIUM TREATMENT.

"CANCER, AND HOW TO AVOID IT." (New Edition Just Fub.ished.)

FREE to "Daily Mirror" Readers.

A well-known London surgeon and recognised authority on Cancer has created wide-world interest in the discovery that Cancer is due to a deficiency of potassimm "salts" in the body, which causes the cells to break down and become maliumant.

"Pall Mall Gazette" quotes:-

The "Pail Mail Gazette" quotes:—
"". he is able in the most emphatic way to define cancer as a deficiency of polissium saits in the body, and to assert with proofs in support that if this deficiency is remedied the cancer will retrogarde. . . . A cancer that could not be touched by a surgeon I have seen the said) in about six weeks disappear utterly and completely."

In order that everyone may learn the real cause of cancer, a remarkable book has been specially written. This will be sent free of all in the latest and most successful method of fighting "The Cancer Scourge."

The following selection from the list of chanters will give some idea of the thoroughness with which this little work has been prepared:—

1. The Limitations, of Surgery.

the while this little work has been prepared:

1. The Limitations of Surgery.

2. Some Doctors Oppose Operation.

3. What Cancer Is.

4. Why the Body-Cells Break Down.

5. Injurious Cooking Methods.

7. Vital Elements of Food.

8. Medical Elements of Food.

8. Medical Elements of Food.

9. The Chief Minerals of the Body.

10. The Thymus Gland

11. The Age when Lime Begins to Accumulate,

12. Potassium Causes Calcium Excretion.

13. Beath-rate from Cancer.

14. Parts of Body Most Liable to Cancer.

15. Parts Which Are Seldom Affected.

16. How a Doctor Can Help You.

16. Great Yalue of Potassium,

19. Arterial Sclerosis and Old Age.

19. Rheumatism, Gout and ease reports

Applications for free book and case reports should be addressed (a postcard will do) to the Secretary. The Cantassium Co., 150, Twickenham, Middlesex.—(Advt.)

ARTICLES FOR DISPOSAL.

Rate, 2a, 8d, per liner minimum, 2 lines,
ABY Cars from laclery on approval, carriage paid; no shop profits, lowert prices for cash or easy payments;
curries for agt catalogue post free, and save money.—Godine Carriage Co. (Dept. 59). (Coveniry.
CHINA and Earthenware—Cheap lines, Plates, Bowls, C'Cups and Saucers, Jug., etc.; crates from 22; price like free.—Boshley Fottery Co., Stokes—Prices, send for W patterns free.—West Eiding Wallpaper Co., Dept. M., Trinky-6, Leon.—West Eiding Wallpaper Co., Dept. M.,

Cups and Saucers, Jugs, etc.; crates from £2; price lists from Denbish Pottery Co. Stoke-norTrent, and for What Probably Pottery Co. Stoke-norTrent, and for What Probably Pottery Co. Stoke-norTrent, and for What Probably Co. Stoke-norTrent, and for Trindy-st. Leading Wallpaper Co. Depb. M., Stoke Co. Stoke Wallpaper Co. Depb. Leading Wallpaper Wallpaper Co. Depb. Leading Wallpaper Co. Depb. Leading Wallpaper Wallpaper Wallpaper Wallpaper Wallpaper Co. Depb. Leading Wallpaper W lei by Klaus, £2 19 6-Pris trial; ser.fic. 59s. 60; approval before payment. Davis. 62; 12 6 - Valuable Violin in perfect condition, excitone with specific payments, sweet, mellow of the condition of the

A BIT OF OLD CHELSEA REVIVED

The Chelsea of the seventeenth century reproduced in Chelsea yesterday at a Midsummer masque. Charles Prince of Wales is represented as arriving with the Duchess of Devonshire and a train of courtiers to take part in the revels.

Tossing the hay on a Thames Valley farm.

Reaper at work in a meadow near Staines.

HAYMAKING NEAR LONDON.—The improvement in weather conditions during the past few days has set hay harvesting in full swing in the Southern Counties. It is understood the crop is much better than might have been expected.

LIBERALS WIN TIVERTON.—Village children of Exminster decorate with ribbons the Hon. F. D. Acland, portrait inset on right, victor in the Tiverton by-election. Mr. Acland's win means the gain of a seat to the Liberals. He polled 12,041 votes, as against 11,638 secured by Colonel Acland Troyte (left inset), the Conservative candidate, and his cousin. The Labour candidate obtained only 495.

FETE AT BRADFORD

Little Miss M. Shepherd made a dainty Cupid.

Children of St. Patrick's School in a Welsh dance.

In the fancy dress parade and schools' sports at Bradford. The children provided delightful pictures.

BATTLING SIKI FINED.—Battling Siki, the well-known coloured boxer, in court on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was convicted and fined one hundred francs at the conclusion of the hearing.

GIRL'S VIAD

Mr. and Mrs. George Blackman Miss Georgina Blackman, of from a viaduct 65th high, out day, and (inset) Mr. Ernest Pi child. Verdict of Suicide

Mr. George Alexander Oliver, of Clapton Purk, London, missing for some two months, discovered at Brighton selling newspapers. He was in a dazed condition and had lost his memory.

FLEET ATALANTA.—Mr. Bro the Queen's Cup during the sai She beat Mr. Turketine's Estell Noad's Ca oft and right), parents of cham, who threw herself the coroner's court yester-Quick, the father of her ile of unsound mind.

JCT DEATH

-2313A

s Muriel Lawrence Kellie, o is giving a song recital at inway Hall, London, next saday evening. Miss Eva pre is to give some tectations of the programme.

yacht Atalanta winning are week at Bourne End, ich was second and Mr. hird.

QUEEN OF PAGEANT

Lady rene Curzon as Queen Elizabeth, whom she is to impersonate at the Harrow pageant. She will be the principal figure in the episode representing the granting of the school's charter.

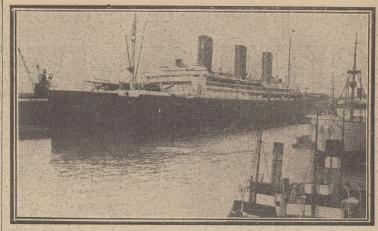

DISTINGUISHED SITTERS.—Mrs. Louis Burrell at work on a portrait of Miss Betty Baldwin. She has been painting portraits of all the Prime Minister's family. The Duke of Connaught has sat to her.

A KEEN "KEEPER."—A bonny little wicketkeeper at the Royal Commercial Travellers' Schools, Hatch End, Pinner. She looks as though she miderstands her work and will not let much get past her.

LINER CHALLENGES "DRY" LAW

The Cunard liner Berengaria, which docked at New York yesterday with a supply of liquor under British Customs seal, intended for consumption on the return voyage. United States Treasury officials were in waiting to seize the liquor, and a tost case will be fought in the American courts. On the hner Baltic 6,182 bottles of liquor were seized.

Lady Mairi Hamilton, Mrs. Poore, Master Lady Margaret Hamilton stakes her claim for Dennis Poore. "Golden Prizes."

To AID "DR. BARNARDO'S."—At the sale of work and fete held by Donhead Habitation of Young Helpers' League, Ferne House, Donhead, Salisbury, in aid of Dr. Barnardo's Homes. It proved a most pleasant means of helping a good cause.

OUT FOR DIAMOND SCULLS.—Left, Hilton Belyea, of St. John's, champion of Canada, who is over here to compete for the Diamond Sculls at Henley. Right, T. Hoover, of Philadelphia, U.S.A., who won the Diamond Sculls last year, and has arrived to defend his championship.

GET TO-MORROW'S

SUNDAY-PICTORIAL

AND READ

BACK TO THE ROADS

By LOVAT FRASER.

IN this interesting article Mr. Fraser draws attention to the increasing number of accidents caused by motor vehicles, and discusses the remedies.

He considers the proposal to impose tests on holders of driving licences, but thinks this would not reduce the number of accidents. Probably the best remedy is to develop on a larger scale the present movement for improving our highways. Everything should be done to encourage the public to make more use of the roads.

ONLY IN TO-MORROW'S

SUNDAY-PICTORIAL

ORDER YOUR COPY TO-DAY.

PIP AND SOUBAR

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1923

THE ADVENTURES OF PIP, SQUEAK AND WILFRED

No. 89.—"TEA IN THE GARDEN" PROVES RATHER AN EXCITING AFFAIR!

1. It looked so fine that the pets decided to have their tea outside in the garden.

2. They soon had the cloth laid, but while Pip and Squeak were fetching some more things—

3. —"just a few" insects collected! —"Shoo! go away, you horrid things!" cried Pip, angrily.

4. At last they settled down. They had hardly started when Pip felt a spot of rain.

5. The next minute it began to pour! "Quick! get indoors!" they shouted, beating a retreat.

6. As soon as they were in, however, the rain cleared, and the sun came out again.

7. They were tempted to have their tea out of doors after all, but before long—

8. —they began to regret it. The wind was rather too strong for picnics!

9. Finally, they had an "indoor picnic," and, what is more, enjoyed it very much!

"I-WONDER-WHY" HERBERT: No. 19. Herbert thought "the lady" looked rather quiet. Then he found out why

1. Herbert had been shopping with his mother, and he found himself in a draper's.

2. "Could you direct me to the pin department?" he asked a tall "lady."

3. There was no reply so Herbert just pulled her sleeve. Then she began—

4. -to topple over! As a matter of fact, she was just a dummy!

WHEN YOUR BOAT BEGINS TO SINK

WHY NOT ILE THE OARS AS STILTS?

題+++++++++++ SECRET WRITING. How to Send a Message + in Cypher.

第+++++++++++++|謝 HERE is r splendid way of sending a message in cypher—that is to say, so disguised that only the person who is in the secret will be able to read it.

to read it.

Supposing you want to write to a friend, "Where are the plans?" This is how you do it.

You write a long sentence, in which these four words occur in their correct order. It doesn't matter what

Can you tell me where the chickens are kept as I want to know the plans for the honcook

The hidden message, the sentence means; it can be about chickens (as you see in the diagram) or any other subject.

Then you place a piece of paper over it, and, just where the words "Where are the plans?" appear, you cut holes in the paper. Then you send the message wrapped up in the paper with the holes cut in it.

How to read it.

All your friend has to do is to place the paper on top of the sentence, and he will read the message. If the message falls into someone else's hands, it, will not be understood, because no one will think of reading it by placing the paper on top of it.

Daily Mirror Office, Saturday, June 28, 1923 DEAR BOYS AND GIRLS,—

When it is a fine afternoon the pets love to have their tea in the garden. They take out the kitchen table, and put it in a shady spot (there is generally a good deal of arguing about the best position for it!) then Angeline cuts some bread and butter for them, and they begin the meal. In spite of the flies which fall in the milk, and the spiders that climb over the jam, and all the other minor accidents, they always enjoy their outdoor tea immensely-unless, of course, it comes on to pour with rain, as you see in to-day's funny pictures.

Tea is always a jolly meal, isn't it? And the best of it is that you can have it in so many different ways and in such different places

TEA IN A "WIGWAM."

For instance, it is much more exciting to have it in the garden instead of in the dining-room; and if the jam happens to be in a jar, and you drink out of mugs in place of cups, it is almost as good as à pienie!

When I was young I used to love to have my tea at a separate table from the grown-ups. Sometimes another little boy or girl would be at my table, and we thought a tremendous lot of ourselves as we poured out our own tea, and offered each other cakes and jam.

I enjoyed tea even more when I had it in a tent which I rigged up in the garden. Sitting cross-legged in the dark "wigwam," I would imagine I was a lonely Western hunter, as I munched my bread and butter and sipped at my mug of steaming tea. Then I wanted no company at all; I was your affectionate Uncle Dick

※+++++++++++++ £2 10s.—FOR YOU? Try to Win a Cheque This Week. 選++++++++++++

EACH of the little pictures you see below represents some well-known shop or stores. For instance, you will all recognise the ole, which represents the barber's hop. Can you guess the others? Make a neat list of what you think he shops are, and send it, with your name, age and address, to Uncle Dick

(Shops), "Pip and Squeak," care of The Daily Mirror, '29, Bouverie-street, London, E.C. 4. For the correct and neatest solu-tions I am awarding:—

ADVENTURES OF HELPFUL HORACE: Pupples are always ungrateful and least, so Horace thinks !

1. Helpful Horace kindly offered the can off the puppy's tail

2. But while he was doing it the young dog noticed a rat, and—

START THIS FINE SERIAL TO-DAY.

BY CYNTHIA GORDON.

FOR NEW READERS.

Pamela, Paul and Babs discover a mysterious door in Professor Pigeon's house. A man named Morgan, who wants to solve the mystery, kid naps Paul and locks him up in a hut on an

A BLOW FOR MORGAN.

THREE hours had passed slowly away, and forgan had not returned. Paul felt dispirited and tired. He had tried the door, and found it securely looked. He had examined the windows and discovered that the barred one overlooked-the water, for the hut was built on the extreme edge of the isaland, There was nothing left to do but to tackle the unappetising meal on water.

the table—a nor or sun, water.

"Well, it's poor grub," he murmured, as he stuck his teeth into the bread, "but my! I wanted it!"

When he had satisfied his hunger he went over to the window and seized the bars. They were made of strong wood, and would not move. Suddenly he remembered his penknife, and, whipping it out, he opened the big blade. Then he struck at one of the bars, and tried to work it loose.

he struck at the or the base and it is loose. "My hard I shall do it!" he muttered, excitedly. "It's wobbling!" is worked to the state bar, until to his delight it expected and fell with a splash into the water below.

Just then the boy happened to look up—and his heart gave a great leap. Starvling on the opposite bank of the river, and staring at him as if her eyes would jump through her spectacles, was—Pamela!

"Pam! Is it really you?" shouted Paul, in amazement. "How did you come here?"

"I just happened to walk over this way, that's all," said his sister. "But you—whatever are you doing in that hut?"
Paul hurriedly told her his story, and before she had recovered from her astonishment he went on: "Now, Pam, there's no time to lose. Morgan may be back any moment. Hurry round to the other side of the island; the old dingly is hidden in the reeds."
Pam didn't wait to say anything; she simply tore away and soon disappeared from view. Paul furiously attacked the other bars with his penkuite, and before one he had ripped Presently he heard the splash of water, and the old dingly shot round the corner of the hut with Pamela pulling at the oars.
She pulled in just under the window, and, looking up at Paul, cried excitedly: "I say, there's a man coming along the other side. He looks like Morgan!"

"Great Scott! we shall have to hurry!" exclaimed Paul, and, lifting himself up, he ing his knees badly on the jagged ends of the ing his knees badly on the jagged ends of the broken bars.

The next moment he had sprung into the boat, which rocked violently at the shock. Thanks, Pam. You're a brick! "was all he said, as he took the cars.

There was no time for anything clse, for at that moment the two children heard an angry shout, and Morgan came dashing along the opposite bank. When he saw them he shock his form the shock has a superposite bank. When he saw them he shock his "Oh, dear!" cried Pam, going very white.

"We're caught now. What are we to do?"

"Don't worry," said Paul, setting his teeth. "Be ready to jump ashore and run." And he rowed straight towards Morgan, who waited for them with a fierce smile.

When the boat was near the bank the man stepped into the water to seize the children. At the same time Paul sprang up, gripped an oar in both hands and swung it round his head. "Get back!" he shouted did forgan, making a grah at the boy's arm. He was too late; the blade of the oar descended with a crack on his head and he went sprawling in the water. "Quick! I run! run for your life!" shouted Paul, and the two children, leaping ashore, dashed away as fast as their legs would carry them.

Even if Morgan had not been stunned by the terrible blow he would never have caught then

Even it along at the trible blow he would never have caught then up; for they sped like the wind until they arrived at Mystery Towers, where they stopped, gasping for breath.

"Phew! that was a narrow squeak!" panted

"Phaw I that was a narrow square."
Paul.

"Oh, Paul, you are brave!" said Pamela, as they rang the bell.

In a few minutes the door opened and Mrs. Wiggs, the housekeeper, appeared. She was looking very worried, and the moment she saw the children she cried: "Oh, Master Paul, I am glad you' have come back! I am terribly upset. As soon as we get over one shock, along comes another. Everything is topsy-turry!"

"Wily, what has happened now!" said Paul, quickly; and his beart sank with dread.

"Another arioning instalment next Saurday.)

(Another gripping instalment next Saturday.)

WITH A GOAT.

LITTLE LA By ERIC

BEGAN.

Carnival-street, London W. is-or was I don, W. is-or was, for it has passed into other hands now the flower shop known as Pleurette et Cie, tenanted by Barbara (Crane, the orphan daughter of a lieutenant-colonel who had died during the War.

Barbura i

Barbara is aided in her business by Alec, a snub-nosed, freckled boy, and she cherishes the Iriendahip of Peier, Cowdray, nephew of Lady Parel to be drawn before choosing the way of dependence.

Barbara foothing in the way of independences.

Barbara has once met Maurice van Rekken, a wealthy, worldy man, who endeavoured to force his love upon her. The memory of that experience has always sent a shudder through the Little Lady since. One night when Peter is suppling with a shadow of the contract of the contra

THE SECRET VISITOR.

THE SECRET VISITOR.

DURING her time at the Villa Isadore Barbara had been able to enjoy a perfect immunity from eare, inspired by that open landscape of mountains and sea. Now, the discovery from the unknown American that Maurice van Rekken was not only in Cannes, but that he had to do with Aileen, brought a disastrous end to her happiness.

Ugly things, which she had thought dead, crowded once more upon her and smeared the picture of life. The sound of a strange voice or of urgent footsleps would make her start and glance fearfully about at the hostile world. Maurice van Rekken in Canodid dog her in such cruel fashion? He, the cne man in all Europe whom she never wished to see again, near by; worse than that, lurking safe amidst a hundred of his kind, playing with Aileen, her charge, whom she had promised Philip Champion to look after.

Seated at her window, she tried during the days which moment ehe had forced herself to believe it a dream, an unreality, while the next set her brain afire with the horror of the coincidence. She was tied hand and foot until she could 'make sure of the exact relations between these two. "I must manage this myself," she said. No cidence. She was field hard and foot until she could make sure of the exact relations between these two.

"I must manage this myself," she said. No use speaking to Philip—it would only worry him. He could do little enough—and Aileen might get wind of his opposition. The yery thought of disapproval on another's part would be sufficient to set the dark and passionate girl on her own course, likely in this instance to end in her downfall.

The weather was ideal, and Aileen drove every day to Cannes. The Little Lady, about her work, followed the big car with unhappy eyes. She wanted to make sure that the American had been right. On the Riviera gossip ran-like wildfire, and the idle conversation of a half-dozen matrons on the verandal of their methods of the conversation of a half-dozen matrons on the verandal of their methods with the conversation of a half-dozen matrons on the verandal of their methods with the decidence of the conversation of a half-dozen matrons on the verandal of their methods with the decidence of the conversation of a half-dozen matrons on the verandal of their methods with the decidence of the conversation with the conversation of the conversation with the conversation of the conversatio and patience built up between the girl and herself.

After all it was a difficult predicament for a Little Lady who knew so little of life. Her mind was blown to and fro by the wind of conflicting emotions. Her own terror of Van Rekken, her love for Philip Champion, her affection for Aileen, all nagged at her, each urging her to a different decision.

To make matters worse, Champion was in excellent spirits, partly, Barbara helieved, owing to the disappearance of Vera, partly because the flower season promised to be a good one and cottages for his workneone, build one planned cottages for his workneone, build one planned her with a smile and that almost boysis chaff which would usually have brought the colour flooding to her cheeks, but now forced her to drive the clouds from her eyes and conjure up an answering smile.

It was after one of these chance meetings, when he had appeared to her more charming and sympathetic than ever, that she felt in the front of her drees for the beloved letter—and front her drey manifold troubles in the shock of the proper such as the shock of the colour manifold troubles in the shock of the colour manifold troubles in the shock of found it gone.

For a moment her heart stood still. She forgot her other manifold troubles in the shock of this single new disaster. The document must not fall into idle hands. It had a secrecy not to be defiled by unsympathetic eves. Besides, (All the characters in this story are flettings.)

Translation, dramatic and all other rights reserved.

it was a link between them, of which he, Philip, was quite unconscious, but which had become very real to the Little Lady.

Very carefully she searched the passages and the garden, watching for a hint of worn blue paper on polished tiles or weedy paths. But, search as she would, she did not find it.

Once more she forced herself to concentrate upon the problem of Alleen. She wondered whether the grid was receiving any missives in the Dutchman's big sprawling hand, but Alleen, if she had any sued, must have kept them cleverly concealed, for Barbara saw nothing and had to rack her worried brains for another plan.

Son page.

See the seed of the see when one evening she warked anoth through the estate in frantic conflict with her own bewilderment.

The had taken that path which followed the time of glasehouses to the valley and turned down through a narrow outpost of woodland to the mimosa plantation. Because of the cold, clear night above which hung the lantern moon, she had wrapped a shawl about her head.

Coming, soft-footed over the drugget of pine needles, she almost ran into Van Rekken.

He was learning against a tree, his back to her. Over his evening clothes he wore a light dust-coat. His sleek, dark head was bare, for he twisted the soft, broad-brimmed hat in his fingers as he whistled heavily some scrap of tune. He had not caught the sound of her approach. Evidently he had arrived a little early for his rendezvous with Aileen, for he did not stare up the path in the direction of the willa, but idly across the valley to where the lights of Nice shone like a circlet of jewels about the bay.

Almost as the Little Lady tremulously wondered whether he had seen her and whether the start of his proposed to the start of the

She could hardly bear to watch them standing strained together, for their meeting there at night was the outward expression of her own failure and Aileen's danger.

Alteen's danger.

The girl had wrapped herself in a blue velvet cloak, the white collar of fur drawn about her face—and there was something in her glad, shining eyes which cut at the Little Lady's heart like the lash of a whip. She blamed herself, for had she not opened Alteen's heart to love, propounded to her the ideal that all women must seek f She heard a whispered exultant "Maurice, dear," and the two shapes became one. How long they dwelled upon that kiss she did not know. She could hardly bear to watch them I standing strained together, for their meeting there at night was the outward expression of her own failure and Alleen's danger.

FALSE AND TRUE.

"A ILEEN," he said, when at length they broke apart, "you become more adorable each time I see you. I might"—and he broke off dramatically.
"Maurice, do you really love me all that you say?"

"I do, dearest."
Again she urged the question "Really?"

He answered her with a kiss, so carelessly let fall upon the girl's red mouth that the Little Lady winced.

Alleen went on: "I told father that I must take a walk, that the room was unbearably stuffy. He ought not to mind, Maurice, because I've been with him a great deal and the seed of the se sometimes."

"Poor father!" said Van Rekken lightly, and the girl did not eatch the slight sneer which lurked beneath the words. "Still, he's a lucky father to have a daughter like you, Alleen."
"Sometimes T've not be'n good to him, Maurice. Last year I—I was a beast—and now I'm very sorry, because of something that a girl Matthree. Last year 1—I was a heast—and not said to me.

I'm very sorry, because of something that a giving said to me.

"For every woman there is only one man, Maurice. That was what she said."

The Little Lady crouched there, stunned by this bitterest irony which should recall her words there at that moment between those two.

"And for every man one woman?" the Dutchman asked, smiling.

"Yes," Aileen replied, "And each of them thinks of the one whom she would most like to end the said." And each of them thinks of the one whom she would most like to end the said of the said

"Darling." He silenced her with another kiss. Barbara could see him preen himself before this innocent child's praise. He felt no shame at the baseness of the deception he practised, he whose heart had held a hundred fleeting pictures of women, good or bad, soon to be rubbed out when he had finished with the realisation.

"Who is that little philosopher in love. Alleen?"

"She's my maid, Barbara."

The Little Lady almost betrayed her presence by the start she gave at the presence of the start of the sta should like father to be there—and Lady Anville." "We'll see," he promised, "Things are not going to be easy for us, Aileen.

They never are—for great lovers, It's only the people who live little lives who if mid things easy and dull and stupid.
Perhaps your father will disapprove of him despending the will disapprove of him competitions are also because the control of the contro know—especially about the fellows who from them."

"But you can meet him. Come up to the house now."
"Not yet," said Van Rekken almost coldly. "He would wonder how we met this evening. Besides, there are things I must arrange."
"I don't like it, Maurice. "Id rather be open about it. In propose, to tell them that you are the man I love, the man to whom I am willing to entrust all my life."
"Wait just a little while." he urged—and then: "Good-bye, my dearest dearest. Run away home now before the frost mips your beauty."
Another lingering kiss and she broke away to disappear in the moon-splashed darkness, going up the hill, almost touching the Little Lady where she kneeled in the deep shadow.
Van Rekken stood a moment, staring after her. Them he turned to go downfull to the road where, doubtless, he had left the Parminters' ("The image in the heart!" he said. "Barbara!" and laughed. a soft laugh which seemed to linger on the air, even when he had gone his way.

Another fine inetalment will appear on Mandae.

Another fine instalment will appear on

Cuticura Soap Imparts The Velvet Touch

Soap, Cintment, Talcum, sold everywhere. British Depot: F. Newbery & Sons, Ltd., 27. Charterhouse Sonare, E.C.

HAVE YOU A WEAK HEART? TIMIDITY, BLUSHING

Do you lack Self-Confidence? Do you Blush, Start, Tremble, Stammer, or Grow Confused when addressed to you culture from Merve or Heart Weakness, Twitch-buy Confidence of the Cure for either sex. No one need suffer . . . The Cure is simple and private. Will not interfere with work or play. It has cured thousands after Doctors, Physical Culture and Suggeston have lailed. Write at once for free par-ticulars. Will be sent Iree privately if you mention. "Mirror." E. M. Dean, 12, All Saints Rd., St. Annes-on-Sea

LONDON AMUSEMENTS.

ADELPH. Last Mak The Osp. 2,30. Last Night at 8,15.
ADELPH. Last Mak The Osp. 2,30. Last Night at 8,15.
ADELPH. Last Mak The Osp. 2,30. Last Night at 8,15.
ADELPH. Last Mak The Osp. 2,30. Last Night at 8,15.
ADELPH. Last Mak The M

EXHIBITIONS.

INTERNATIONAL HORSE SHOW, Olympia, 2 and 7.30 Seats, 2s. 4d, to 22s. 6d, Tel.: Ham, 2101 and May, 595.

PERSONAL.

SUPERFLUOUS hair permanently removed from face with electricity; hadies only.—Miss Florence Wood, 29, Gran-rille-gardens, Shepherd's Bush W. 12. Min. Tube COPIES of photographs appearing in "The Daily Mirror" may be purchased by readers at the usual prices on application to the office.

GREY hairs, Touch up the first ones with Tatcho-Tone; trial phial 8d. Tatcho-Tone 5. Great Queen-st. W.O.

The above advertisements are charged at the rate of one Shilling per word minimum claft wouldn't Trade Ad-ertisements. In November 1997, we will be a supported to the control of the control of the control of the control be sent. Address, Advertisement Manager, "Daily Mirror," 25.29, Bouvelet-et, London, E.C. 4.

REAL SUMMER WEATHER FOR ASCOT'S FINAL DAY

Crowdennis Wins Wokingham Stakes. WINDSOR TO-DAY.

A. G. Havers and Frank Ball in Final at Gleneagles.

Ascot; memorable mostly for the King's successes with Knight of the Garter and Weathervane and a desperate struggle for supremacy between Happy Man and Silurian for the Gold Cap, came to a successful conclusion, vesterday. Matters, as usual, conclusion yesterday. Matters, as us were quieter and more subdued, but proceedings we'c none the less enjoyable, the weather being the best of the week. Features of the day's sport were:-

Racing.—Crowdennis won 'the Wokingham Stakes at Ascot, and war followed home by Precious and Joss House.

Cricket.—Yorkshire beat Kent, despite a great attempt by Frank Woolley to save the game; Surrey defeated Somerset by eight wickets, and Essex won against the Light Blues.

HINTS FOR WINDSOR.

Some Probable Winners for This Afternoon's Events.

By BOUVERIE.

Windsor brings us back to ordinary every-day racing life this afternoon. Platers of the common herd come to their own again, and from all accounts there will be more of them than are really welcome.

conditions.

Perhaps the best race will be the June Handicap, in which Earlestown, Hatchford, Dumas, End Over End and Cherry Brook appear to be

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY.

2. 0.—COOKPIT. 3.30.—FOREIGN LEGION 2.30.—LEMBAS. 4. 0.—INDELIBLE. 3. 0.—END OVER END. 4.30.—SCAPE. DOUBLE EVENT FOR TO-DAY, COCKPIT and INDELIBLE.

the prime fancies. Noir is to be given another chance to the exclusion of his stable companion, Miss Marget, and Azimuth, who ran quite well at Ascot, may also be sent on.

It is a very open race, and perhaps the Birmingham form of Dumas and End Over End, is the best guide. That suggests a victory for End Over End, but there is precious little in it.

Indelible, who, like End Over End, will be ridden by Weston, is well-fancial for the Clewer Handicap, in which Almond Vine and Hark Forrard should also run well.

Already a wiener over the course and subsequently accessful at Lewes, Cockpit may carry on the good work in the Nimble Plate, and now the good work in the Nimble Plate, and now accessful at Lewes, Cockpit may carry on the good work in the Nimble Plate, and now access the subsequently accessful at Lewes, Cockpit in Company of the Company of th

COURSE AND TRAINING NEWS.

Points from Tattersall's, the Track and Chivalrous, who broke down in the Gold Cup, will not run again.

J. M. Reardon has relinquished his licence to ride under National Hunt Rules.

Darragh has left Newmarket for Ireland, will be ridden by Jelliss in the Irish Derby Wednesday.

* * * *

It is understood that some of the King's horses are to compete in selling races with a view to weeding out the present stock.

Crepe colt, who ran third to Seeker and Punters'
Bane at Haydock, has received the name of Domino.
He is engaged next week at Newcarde.

Punters' Bane, entered for the Stewards' Plate at Newcastle on Thursday, has been renamed Amazement. He won his last two races at Yarmouth and Doncaster.

Bold and Bad, who was beaten by Chosroes in the Hardwicke Stakes yesterday, will, it is understood, represent Lord Astor in the North Derby at Newcastle on Tuesday.

Five English horses have been left in Sunday's Grand Prix de Paris, but only two of them will be saddled Hulme-rides Saucer, and Joe Childs will have the mount on D'Orsay.

Frank Woolley, who made a plucky, but fruitless, effort to save game with Bert Seymour, who beat Kirkwood at Gleneagles yesterday and was in turn beaten by Frank Ball.

ASCOT'S CLOSING STAGE.

Crowdennis Wins Wokingham Stakes for Persse's Stable.

By far the best weather of the week was reserved for the last day of Ascot, and if the attendance showed à drop compared with the more fashionable afternoons, the racing kept its high standard to the end.

its high standard to the end.

Joss Honse made a gallant attempt to add to the King's successes by winning the Wokingham Stakes, but, as I feared might be the case, he found the six furlongs just too far and went under to Grow-Confidence in the Stockbridge sprinter was considerably shaken by his display at Eppon, where he turned the wrong way when the tapes went up, and it was not a good sign that he went to the post blinkered, after indulging in some high kicking in the paddock. however, Crowdennis showed not the slightest sign of waywardness, and, keeping a nice place behind Joss House, Precious and Defation, Carslake sent him out to tackle the leaders a futlong from home and his finishing burst was much too good for the favourite.

ANOTHER DONOGHUE DOUBLE.

ANOTHER DONOGHUE DOUBLE.

Donoghue, as on Gold Cap Day, won the first race, and as Tharros carried Mr. James White's khaki and blue hoops there was some slight consolation for the ill-liuck that came the way of Clochmaben in the Hint Cup.

Tharros had carned her reputation of being an along unta below the distance he took the lead from Thorndown in the gamest possible fashion and kept it, in spite of a resolute challenge by Lord Derby's Ceinturon. There was a lot of cerimmaging in the last furiong, and neither Ragout nor Endor was given any too much room.

Grant of the Common Common Common contagain for the Jersey Stakes and literally lost Paola.

GOLDEN BOSS WINS AGAIN.

GOLDEN BOSS WINS AGAIN.

Golden Boss also registered his second victory at the meeting in the King's Stand Stakes, in which, like Paola, her stable companion Cos was evidently feeling the effects of her previous efforts.

As in the Coventry Stakes and the Newers will be a standard of the Coventry Stakes and the Newers will be the provious winner in Purple Shade. The much talked of Vesper Bell gave a disappointing display and Royal Crescent was one of the first beaten.

beaten.
Chosroes and Bucks Hussar both atoned for previous failures during the afternoon, which was remarkable for the fact that neither Alec Taylor nor Frank Bullock managed to win a race between them.

RICHARDS TO MEET JACOB.

American and Indian in Queen's Club Lawn Tennis Final.

Vincent Richards yesterday qualified for the man's singles find in the London lawn tennis champion-ships at Queen's Club, but the other American with reached the semi-final round, Francis T. Hunter, was defeated by the Indian Davis Cup international, S. M. Jacob, by 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, Richards defeated D. M. Greig 2-4, 6-0, 6-3, Richards defeated D. M. Greig 2-4, 6-0, 6-3, M. T. Beamish and Miss Ryan are the finalists in the women's singles. Yesterday Mrs. Beamish beat Mrs. Barron 6-4, 6-1, while Miss Ryan defeated Mrs. Satterlivatie 6-4, Rechampton yesterday Nero' and Dr. All Hyses qualified for the singles final, the former beating B. 1. C. Norton and Fyzee defeating G. R. Sherwell.

CLYDE YACHTING.

Britannia Wins the First Race For the King.

The Clyde vachting fortnight opened at Larry vestorday, the King's cutter Britannia winning the first race against Mrs. Workman's Nyria and Mr. Lees' Terpischore, to whom she conceded three seconds and seven seconds per mile respectively on After half an hour the Nyria had a mishap and gave up. The wind blowing hard from the northwest suited the Britannia, and she soon had a long lead over Terpischore.

The Britannia was fiteen minutes shead at the position. The Terpischore gave up after this, leaving the King's yacht the winner.

GLENEAGLES FINALISTS.

Frank Ball to Meet Champion Havers To-day.

GLENEAGLES, Friday.

The Gleneagles 1,000 guineas golf tournament has reached its final stage, and to-morrow A. G. Havers, the British champion, who has reached the stage which a champion should gain, and Frank Ball, a young London golfer, but a native of Hoylake, will play out the thirty-six holes inal.

In the semi-final round Havers beat the giant Irishman, H. McNeill, who in huge strides has been trampling down reputations. But Havers came dangerously hear being beaten before he woo. Life and condy square at the thirteenth, at the eighth and only square at the thirteenth, and this was his undoing, for Havers won the short eightheath of the condition of the string of the condition of the seventeenth hole. McNeill fine his superstitions, will be more super-McNeill, and he took a risk in attempting to reach the green. He reached the green, but the ball only stayed there a moment and rolled back into a bunker. Thus he lost a lead which he never re-Ball always held the mapper hand over Seymour bunker. Thus he lost a lead which he never resmal.

It was he ways held the upper hand over Seymout in his semi-final match, and the magnificent golf which the young Langley Park player has produced here is due in a measure to his good putting. Seymour was only once leading—that was at the first hole, where Ball was in the whins, holes played against Gordon Lockhart. Havers won' from Twine, who seemed rather nexyous. Ball played fine golf in his match with Willie Ritchte.
Hert Seymour, a redoubtable match player, defeated James Rirkwood, the favourite

Bert Seymour (West Essex) beat Joe Kirkwood (Australia) 2. Bert Seymour (West Essex) beat Joe Kirkwood (Australia) 2. Bert Seymour (West Essex) beat W. L. Ritchie (Addington) by 5 and 4, 4. G. Havers (Coombe Hill) beat W. T. Twine (Shooters Hill) by 5 and 1, 4. G. Havers (Combe Hill) beat M. T. Twine (Shooters Hill) by 5 and 1, 4. McNeill (Donajabdee) beat G. Lockhart (Gleneagles), 6 and 7.

Ball beat Seymour by 3 and 1. Havers beat McNeill by 2 and 1.

HAGEN'S KICK.

Not Likely to Visit Us Again-Sarazen Coming Next Year.

Walter Hagen, who arrived in New York yesterday, was very disappointed, though not bitter, regarding the open of the house of the form of the grading the open of the grading the open of the grading the open of the grading the play golf in England again." He regretted, says the Exchange, the last moment action of the Golf Championship Committee in barring the slotted irons used by most Americans and also remarked: "When we Americans were putting on the greens the gallery would cheer if we missed."
Sarazen, however, was all amiles. "I've got no kick coming," he said, "I'm going back next year if I have to wim."

ENGLISH ATHLETIC TITLES. First Meeting To Be Held To-day at Fallowfield.

Fallowfield.

On the Manchester A.C. ground at Fallowfield to-day the first English A.A.A. championship meeting is to be carried through.

It is to be contested by H. M. Abrabams, L. C. Royle, T. Mathewman and W. A. Hill. Only seventeen entries have been received for the mile, and H. B. Stallard, the Sourcey, W. E. A. Chambers, M. R. D. Pugh, W. R. Storey, W. E. A. Chambers, M. R. D. Pugh, W. R. E. D. Mountain, the A.A. A. Stille holder, is to contest the half-mile, though Ceell Griffiths, Southern champion, is not competing, and Chambers apparently prefers the mile. C. H. Ruffled and Percy Hodge are prominent entrants in the steeplechase, and in the four-miles Lance-Corporat Catterell has and in the four-miles Lance-Corporat Catterell has and in the four-miles Lance-Corporat Catterell base and in the four-miles Lance-Corporat Catterell base but will probably find sterner opposition from C. E. Blewitt, W. Freeman, Wal Monk and H. Britton.

The quarter-mile should be a good race, with E. J. -Tomes, Southern champion, R. N. Ripley, Northern champion, and T. J. Cushing in opposition. The two miles walk entry includes G. H. Watts.

tion.

The two miles walk entry includes G. H. Watts, J. W. Dowse, G. R. Goodwin and F. Poynton, and a splendid race is assured in the relay event, in which Surrey A.C., the A.A.A. champions, will find pleuty of opposition in the Poly Harriers, South London Harriers and Birchfield Harriers.

SCOTTISH CHAMPIONS

To-day's Big Athletic Meeting in Glasgow Printers' Sports.

seconds and seven seconds per mile respectively on After half an hour the Nyria had a mishap and gave up. The wind blowing hard from the north-gave up. The Britamia was affected minutes and at the end of the first round, and was thus in a winning position. The Terrisachore gave up after this, leaving the King's yacht the winner.

BRITISH LEGION'S SPORTS.

The athletic meeting organized by the British Legion of the prince of Wales will present the King's shield to the winners of the Imperial relay. The shield have been considered to the winners of the Imperial relay race, open to teams of four ex-Service men from all parts of the Empire. The King has given a shield to be won outright for this event.

YORKS BEAT KENT.

Woolley's Effort Neutralised by Robinson's Bowling.

EASY WIN FOR SURREY.

Although Kent's position was nearly hopeless -355 behind with three wickets gone-Frank Woolley made a brilliant and plucky effort to lessen the margin of defeat at Tonbridge. Scor-ing 50 out of 67 in forty-five minutes, he went on to make a splendid 138. Collins meanwhile played a waiting game and was fifty minutes without scoring.

played a waiting game and was fifty minutes without scoring.

In two hours and a half Woolley scored 138 out of 199 and Collins occupied the same length of time for his 39. The effort, however, was unavailing, for the reat of the Kent batsmen could do nothing with the bowling of Robinson, who, with an analysis of seven for 28, was mainly responsible for the dismissal of the C28, was mainly responsible for the dismissal of The 163 which Woolley and Seymour put together was the best stand yet made this season against the Yorkshire bowling.

SOMERSET'S DEFEAT.

SOMERSET'S DEFEAT.

Somerset saved the innings defeat at the Oval largely as the result of a stand by F. R. Johnson, J. S. Daniell also scored freely, despite excellent Surrey fleding. Fender changed the bowling frequently, and a few overs after lunch sufficed to with the innings, Surrey being left to get 116 to diefitly and a few overs atter than success finish the ionings. Surrey being left to get 116 to get 126 to minish the ionings. Surrey being left to get 126 to the first of th

LEA ROWING.

Results of Last Night's Races in the N.A.R.A. Regatta.

The N.A.R.A. Regatta was continued on the River Lea last night. Results:—
Junior Fours: Clapton Warwick B beat Dalston Alberts by two lengths; Iris B beat Mildmay by one length; Eton Mission beat Gladstone B by two lengths; Iris A beat Clapton Warwick A by half a length; Iris B beat Clapton Warwick B by half a length; Iris B beat Clapton Warwick B by half a length; Eton Mission beat Iris A by three lengths. Junior Sculls: J. Moore Clapton Warwick) beat W. Donoghue (Britannia easily; F. Spiege Claptonse disqualified. Juno-Senior Fours: Clapton Warwick beat Gladstone easily.

WILL BECKETT FIGHT?

Nothing Definite Yet Settled With Regard to Proposed New Date.

Major Wilson issued another statement with regard to the Beckett-Carpentier contest last night. Becket has not yet definitely replied to the offer to stage the contest on July 36.

The major says-that he has gone to considerable trouble and expense-to arrange this match, which Becket has always been claimouring for, and in the face of Sir Herhert Barker's certificate and the X-ray photograph it is left to the sporting public to judge the merits of the case if Beckett does not proceed with the match.

OTHER SPORT IN BRIEF.

News Items and Gossip About Men and Matters of the Moment.

To-night at the Ring.-Frank Moody and Larry Gains e opposed over fifteen rounds in the principal contest at Joe Symonds Knocked Out. At Plymouth last night Billy Painer (London) knocked out Joe Symonds (Ply-

Exchange Golf Match. In a ten a-side golf match at French Win in Oavis Cup.—J. Brugnon and R. Lacosto France) defeated the Hon. C. Campbell and S. F. Scroope reland) in the doubles match, in the Davis Cup-tie, at e FitzWilliam Club, Dublin, yesterday 6—2, 6—5, 14—12. New Motor-Cycle Record—The world's motor-cycling re-red for one hour was beaten at Brook ands yesterday by Denly, on a 3½-hp. Norton, with a distance of miles 1,172 yards. Denly also beat the record for y miles in 56m. 4.9b.

fitty miles in 56m, 4.9.0.

Gricket To-day.—Manchester, North v. South; Lorda, Middlesex , Glomester; Leyton, Essex v. Yorkshire; Derly, Derbo r. Laicasshire; Dudley Worcester v. Kent; Warwick; Northampton, Northants v. West Indies; Oval, Surrey v. Gambridge University; Brighton, Sussex v. Oxford University.

Lawn Tennis.—North London Parks Lawn Ren.

Lawn Recketon Own

Lawn Reserved Ren.

Lawn Ren.

Lawn

"SUNDAY PICTORIAL" NAP. AMAINKR.

TO-DAY'S RACING PROGRAMME

Card for Windsor Meeting-Ascot Results.

NEWMARKET'S BEST.

Acharha Gooch
Pride of Kildare Earl
Potency Batho
Spear D. Wangh
Swan Match Gundell
Avon Ple
Pittendynie F. Darling
Strathtay Pickering
Clent Rintoul
Disarmed Peck
Amicitia R. Dawson
Pryderi Pt lonia g Ptelonia g F-Scott phora g Earl ricature g Gwilt
igma W.Nightingall
angled g Clement
rod's P'de G.Benn'tt
o f F-Hartigan
nite Bread Cottrill
umming Bee Cottrill
ver 147

30-PARK (S.) H'CAP, one Wolf Pte 5 9 lack Magic Hasti gs 6 8 'g Man's Fy J.Ch 3 7 p rkling Eyes C'd'll 3 7 G.Pocle 6 3.0-ROYAL JUNE 3-Y-O I

Daughter Irnia ner Rose ... Higg DeMestr Hor

Templeman 4 y .H.Leader 4 g ... R.Day 3 Miel.B'd-R't 3

RACING RESULTS.

1.30—ASCOT HIGH-WEIGHT STAKES, 14m—THAR-ROS (100-8), Donoghue), 1. CEINFURDON 20-1), 2. BRINKOW, BRINKOW, TWAIRIA (5-1), Thorndown (6-1), Sct. Off. Rapout, Sun of Love and Flammette (10-1), Besseman (100-8), Transt. (100-7), Brist Wheat, Scaliger, El Obeid Errant Lad, Broxa and Endor (20-1), Length; same: (Ward)

ant. (Perssel)

3.0-WINDSOR CASTLE STAKES. SI-PURPLE SHADE 77-1, V. Smyth), 1; GURZIL (100-6), 2; MAID OF BATH, (100-6), 3. MAID or nat. Yesper Bell (5.2), Nelburger States, Sea Hawk, Dalkeith f Durallia and Tuscar Rock (100-6). Two; one. (Easterbe.)

Phoof, Jarpon, and Dentoni (act), Ories Saue. in Accession, 4.0.—JERSEY STAKES. 71, 165%—FELIAR (9-4, Donoghue), 1; PATRAS (6-1), 2; PAOLA (4-6), 3. 3 ran, Three lengths; Jour. (W. Wangh.)
4.30.—ALFXANDRA STAKES. - 2m ef 85%—BUCKS HUSSAR (8-1), Caralako 1; BATON ROUGE (6-1), 2; TANGLEWOOD (6-1), 3. Also ran; Joniso (5-8), Norseman (100-30), The Villager (7-1), Sneil (3-3). Two; three man f.00-50), The Villager (7-1), Saéu (55-1). Two; Linte, (R. Day).

5.0.—KING'S STAND STAKES. 51.—GOLDEN BOSS
(7-1, Elliott), 1; SURYAKUMARII (5-1), 2; GOS (7-4), 5, Akso ran, Laughter (4-1), Linby (10-1), American Boy and Mademonische M. (100-7). Two; three, S. Barlings.

SPECIAL NEWMARKET WIRE.

3.30.—ELSIE MAYNARD. 4. 0.—INDELIBLE. 4.30.—LUNE DE MIEL. 2. 0.—COCKPIT 2.30.—YOUNG MAN'S FANCY. 3. 0.—END OVER END.

HORSES FOR COURSES.

mena.
4.0.—Scamp, Zareba, Irish Eagle, Warrington (twice).
4.30.—Scamp, Sunrising.

CRICKET SCORE BOARD.

Surrey V. SOMERSET—At the Oval.

Semerate—First limings; 168. Second Imings; 277;
168. Second Imings; 277;
278. Second Imings; 278;
279. Second Imings; 279;
279. Second Im

ESEX v. CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY—At Colchester. ESSEX v. CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY—At Colchester. Cambridge University.—First Innings: 333 for 9 (dec.). Bowling: Hight 4 for 44. Crowley 64, T. C. Lowry, Essex.—First Innings: 223. Second Innings: 246 for 3; Russell 76, Capt. F. W. Micholas 33, O'Connor 56, Free-

DERBYSHIRE v. WEST INDIES.—At Buxton.
West Indies.—First Innings: 97. Second Innings:

for 2.
Derbyshire.—First Innings: 75. Match abandoned.

Perfect Courts for Battle of Tennis "Stars."

TEAS FOR 10,000.

Wimbledon tennis courts are at their brightest and greenest in readiness for the great tournament that opens on Monday. Many famous ment that opens our anomaly. Many tander champions will take part.

Since last year many improvements have been made. Additional cover has been provided round the centre court, which accommodates 14,000 spectators; another stand, holding about 1,600, has been erected, beside a second "show court"; while around the new hard court is a concrete stand that, when finished, will accommodate 500 neonle.

concrete stand that, when finished, will accommodate 5,000 people.

But above all this—from the point of view of the women spectators—is the fact that the facilities for teas have been greatly augmented.

People realise that it is impossible to serve 10,000 people.

The thing by a secretary of the club, to The Deity Miyard, secretary of the club, the clu tion.

The Underground Railway is augmenting its service to Southfields and Wimbledon during the meeting, and at the former station an additional exit has been constructed

KITTEN KILLER FINED.

Hurled from Doorstep Across Road and Fatally Hurt by Railings.

For cruelty to an eight-weeks-old kitten by throwing it from the doorstep of his house to the uppecite side of the road, where it struck some bridge and was so badly injured that it had to bridge and was so badly injured that it had to bridge was at Highgate yesterday fined 30s, and order was at Highgate yesterday fined 30s, and orders to the house the kitten was making disturbed his with the house the kitten was a cat with the more than the with the merely intended to push his kitten was Cat Beaten to Beath—For beating a cat with an iron bar until it was so badly hurt that it had to be killed, David Ridler was fined £4 and costs at Bristol.

£19,061 LABOUR LOSS.

Due to Fall in Trade Union Members and General Election Expenses.

The Labour Party's expenditure during the past year has exceeded their receipts by £19,061. The total income from all sources was £51,721, and the total expenditure was £70,782. This information is contained in the report of the executive, which will be presented to the annual conference at the Queen's Hall, London, next week. This loss will reduce the balance of £23,033, with which the year began, to one of £33,051.

53,571.

The difference is explained by a falling off in receipts from affiliation fees owing to the effect of memployment on trade union membership and an increase in expenditure largely attributed to the cost of the General Election.

There are now 2,853 divisional and local labour parties and trades councils throughout the country, an increase of 253 during the past year.

The executive have decided that the renewed application for affiliation by the Communist Party cannot be entertained.

BIGGEST SAWMILLS BURNT.

Fire in the Korsnaes Company's sawmills at Bombus, Sweden, reputed to be the largest in the world, yesterday razed the mills and caused damage estimated at one million kroner, says an Exchange Copenhagen telegram.

WIMBLEDON READY. DEAD GIRL'S PLEA FOR HER CHILD.

Inquest Drama of Letter to Married Man.

"GIVE HER HAPPINESS."

The remarkable story of a pretty typist's friendship with a married man was disclosed at the inquest at Caterham yesterday on Georgina Blackman, the twenty-six-year-old girl who threw herself from a viaduct 65ft, high.

George Dullan Blackman, of Warren-road, Leyton, a retired master cooper, said his daugh. ter had been employed in the City as a typist and resided in Croydon-road, Caterham.

The Coroner: Has she ever written to you about any trouble!—No; she was living away from us, having had a child.

You knew that somebody was supporting the child!—Yes.

Mrs. Adeline Dullan Blackman said she received a letter from her daughter about a fortight ago, in which she said she was quite night ago, in which she said she was quite happy.

The Coroner: Had you asked her to go home?

—Yes, but not if she brought the baby.

Mr. Bannehr (for Mr. Quick): You knew a Mr. Quick!—Yes.

Tou know that he had promised to contribute

Tou know the support of the child!—Yes, he must have done.

"TAKE BAEY."

"TAKE BAEY."

Mr. Ernest Pierre Quick, of Woodcote, Waldingham, was the next, witness, and a letter from the dead girl to him was read. It ran:—

Dear Ernest.—This is the last thing I shall ever ask you to do. Will you please take baby meas the is entitled to? You will not, I am sure, refuse to do this for your own child. If you never do another good feed in your life, I beg of you to take eare of our baby.—Georgie.

The Coroner: Have you supported the child she had £20 from me.

Mr. Bannehr: Have you been open with everyone with regard to your association with her?—Yes, I told my wife.

The Coroner: Was your wife on friendly terms with her!—My wife was her best friend.

Mr. Bannehr: Is it your desire to take charge of the child!—It is, and also my wife.

Averdict of Suicide while of unsound mind was returned.

was returned.

The Funeral.—Miss Blackman was buried in Caterham Cemetery directly after the inquest.
Her parents and landlady were the only mourners. Mr. Quick sent a wreath.

MR. LL. GEORGE WILLING

Self-Respect on Both Sides as His Condition of Liberal Reunion.

"On condition that self-respect on both sides is retained, I am willing to work as I worked in the past for progressive principles and progressive causes," said Mr. Lloyd George, speaking on Liberal reunion at the Oxford University New Reform Club yesteday.

The white sheet of repentence was a very poor substitute for a mainsan, he added. "What they wanted was to get the ship along. "If I were to say: 'I am here, gertlemen, to apologise for the part I took in the war, for having done my best for my native land,' you would not respect me for one moment, The old phrase was repent and be saved, but this is repent and be damned."

NO REVOLUTION IN ALBANIA.

News has reached Belgrade of collision between rebels and Government troops in Northern Albania, in the mountainous district around Scutari, in the course of which the commandant of the Government troops was wounded, says Reuter. There is no question of a revolution.

JEFF DOESN'T UNDERSTAND OLD FURNITURE: By BUD FISHER.

THE DAILY MIRROR, Saturday, June 23, 1923.

Clever Children's Chance: Page 12.

THE KING'S HORSE RUNS THIRD ON THE LAST DAY OF ASCOT—DAY OF RADIANT SUNSHINE

Crowdennis winning the Wokingham Stakes from Precious and the King's Joss House.

The Queen arriving under a summery sunshade, while the King wears a white hat

Sir Hedworth Meux' Chosroes (right) winning the Hardwicke Stakes a short head in front of Bold and Bad.

CAXTON OF THE CHURCH.—Dr. W. F. Geikie-Cobb, rector of St. Ethelburga's, in the City, setting up type in his private printing press.

Studying her race-card during her tea in the Guards' Club tent.

FLAGS FOR MEMORY.—Countess Roberts unveiling a memorial of flags above the tablet to Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson at Liverpool-street Station yesterday, the anniversary of his death.—(Daily Mirror.)

RACE OF 100 BALLOONS.—Some of one hundred balloons which were released for a long-distance competition by the Mayor of Wolverhampton (cen-tre) at a hospital garden fete:

WHERE TILLS ARE USELESS.—A newspaper woman in Berlin uses a clothes-basket to hold her notes. Money is now so depreciated that tradespeople find ordinary tills inadequate for a day's takings.

Telephone Central 3440.